HOUSE ACTION MEANS DEATH OF DEBENTURE

HOOVER IDEA WILL WIN WHEN BILL IS PASSED

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1929, by the Escanaba Press)

Washington, May 20.—President Hoover's control of the house of representatives—the cohesive influence there in contrast to his relation with the senate—has been demonstrated by the rejection of the export debenture plan and the sending of the bill to conference between the houses.

So far a record vote in the house on the issue itself has been avoided. When the measure reaches the senate with the export plan eliminated the real test will come. There are some administration leaders who think votes will be changed so that the bill without the export plan will be accepted by the upper house. If it is not, a deadlock will ensue which will imperil the chances of farm legislation—the very purpose of the extra session.

Friends On Record.

The original vote in the senate on the export plan gave its friends an opportunity to record themselves as favoring it but when the bill comes back from the conference with the plan eliminated, the vote then will be on the whole bill and those who insist on retaining the debenture idea in the bill will be in the position of blocking progress, especially since the vote in the house demonstrates that the president has a substantial majority there.

If the export debenture plan alone were voted on in the house there would be a number of defections in the republican ranks, but the chances are the proposal would be defeated anyhow. By questioning the propriety of having legislation of this kind originate in the senate, the house leaders have raised a technicality which makes it unnecessary for the house to discuss the merits of the export plan, thus avoiding embarrassment for some individual members who can take refuge in the constitutional objection that has been suggested.

Until the house sent the bill to conference there was some nervousness about the outcome. It was not known how strongly the house would stand behind the president on an issue in which the senate had already revolted. The house vote renews the confidence of the administration in its position with respect to the export debenture plan and merely means its ultimate elimination from the bill.

Farm legislation has in effect been expedited, for it seems unlikely at this writing that the senate will wish to make an issue of the plan to the extent of blocking all legislation.

The next piece of strategy relates to the opportune moment for presenting the conference report on farm legislation. If it comes before the tariff bill has been voted on, as is expected, it might be consented to by the senate and an effort later made to tack the export debenture plan on the tariff bill. The senate will have to be marking time from now on waiting for the new tariff bill to go through the house and then the senate finance committee.

Senate Can Keep Busy.

But there are dozens of things on which the senate can spend its time. The report of the judiciary committee with reference to the eligibility of Mr. Mellon to continue to hold office as secretary of the treasury is yet to be debated in the senate and a record vote taken. Senator Walsh of Montana is preparing to hold the attention of the senate and the country by reading excerpts from the executive sessions of the judiciary committee. When this question is disposed of, the senate may not remain in continuous day to day session but may take recesses, especially early in June.

For the moment the administration breathes easier now that the house has sustained the president and the vexing debenture plan has been left to a friendly conference committee of both houses to eliminate.

Sonnenberg Agrees To Defend Title Against Plestina

Boston, May 20 (AP)—Gus Sonnenberg, heavyweight wrestling champion, today agreed to defend his title against Martin Plestina of Chicago, at the Boston arena on May 28. The champion was guaranteed $10,000 and the challenger was promised 15 per cent of the gate receipts. Plestina also was forced to agree to a return match in Boston within 30 days if he defeated Sonnenberg.

TELLS OF START OF CLINIC FIRE

Buffery Boggs, a steamfitter, was at work in the basement store room of Cleveland Clinic when the fire started that caused several explosions and caused the death of 124 persons. Boggs, above, had been sent into the basement to fix a leaking steam pipe. He found the pipe too hot to work on and went to ask the engineer to shut off the steam. When he returned the basement was "full of yellow smoke" (poison gas) which choked him. During all this time, he said, the fire door to the store room, containing X-ray films and chemicals, was open.

STOCK MARKET HITS TOBOGGAN

Rail Rally Following O'Fallon Decision Is Checked by Break

BY STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP)—Prices of railroad shares started to go "through the roof" on the New York Stock Exchange today in a frenzied outburst of buying which followed the decision of the United States Supreme court upsetting the low valuation which the interstate commerce commission had placed upon the St. Louis & O'Fallon railroad, but the rally was suddenly checked in the last hour of trading by a mysterious outbreak of selling in the industrial and public utility stocks.

Extreme gains of $4 to $22.50 a share in the railroad group were quickly cut in half, and a whole flock of other issues crashed $5 to $20 a share below last week's final quotations. Based on the Associated Press index of 50 leading industrials, the net reaction was even more severe than the break which accompanied the first serious flurry of the year in call money rates on March 25.

Sales today fell just below 4,000,000 shares, as against nearly 6,000,000 on March 25 and more than 8,000,000 on March 26 when the market broke wide open and then staged a spectacular rally.

Wall Street Stunned

Wall Street was stunned by the market's behaviour, as there was nothing in the day's news to account for the liquidating movement. The decision in the O'Fallon case, which has been widely referred to as "the greatest law suit in history" because indirectly it involved the valuation of billions of dollars of American railroad properties, was immediately hailed by brokers as a bullish development of greatest importance.

As soon as the decision came over the wires, there was a concerted rush to buy the railroad stocks. Selling orders which had been placed before the decision became known were hastily withdrawn. Because of the fact that most buying orders were placed "at the market" and there were no nearby offers, prices sky-rocketed in spectacular fashion. In the short space of less than two hours more than a million shares of railroad stocks changed hands. Industrials and public utilities, for the moment, were out of the picture as about 3 out of every 4 sales were railroad securities.

"Bears" Attack

The rally soon burned itself out, and prices started to split on profit-taking. Then, without a moment's notice, a flood of selling orders appeared in the leading industrials. Some of them dropped $1 to $3 a share between sales. It looked like a concerted "bear" attack. "Stop loss" orders, which had been placed just below the market when higher federal rediscount rates seemed imminent last week, were touched off like a string of firecrackers, and the whole market broke wide open.

Brokers, who had just advised their customers that the O'Fallon decision probably would turn the market upward, were besieged with telephone calls demanding to know what had happened. These continued until long after the closing gong had sounded.

House May Vote on Debenture Plan

FOUNDERS OF CLINIC TELL BLAST STORY

NITROGEN DIOXIDE GAS CAUSED DEATHS

Cleveland, O., May 20 (AP)—The 124 deaths in the Cleveland clinic disaster were attributed to nitrogen dioxide gas in a statement late today by Dr. William E. Lower, a co-founder and director of the clinic.

Dr. Lower, giving the first official explanation of the catastrophe by a clinic official, said the poisonous gas was believed to have been generated by decomposition of the substance covering the X-ray plates which were stored in a room in the basement.

It was in this room, that two explosions occurred, filling the building with deadly fumes and claiming the lives of physicians, attendants, nurses and patients.

Founders to Testify

Together with Dr. George W. Crile, the leading spirit in founding of the clinic, Dr. Lower will be asked to give the clinic's version of the disaster tomorrow before the official investigating committee headed by Coroner A. J. Pearse. Dr. Crile said he had been too occupied caring for victims and moving the clinic's affairs to another building across the street to give any attention to the cause of the tragedy.

Meanwhile, Coroner Pearse directed the investigation to an examination of conditions in the basement of the clinic in the hope of determining the exact cause of ignition of the covering on the X-ray plates. Bufferty Boggs, steamfitter, who was the last person in the storage room, told how he was called to repair a leaking steampipe, of noticing the brownish yellow gas emanating from the X-ray plates, and of being almost blown from the room by the first explosion.

New Theory Advanced

The latest theory for combustion of the X-ray plates was advanced by William D. Guion, city building commissioner, who voiced the opinion that nearness of electric light bulbs to the plates might have caused their decomposition. He made a series of tests which tended to bear out his theory.

Coroner Pearse will continue questioning of witnesses and authorities tomorrow. He hopes to hold a formal public inquest later in the week.

More than 30 persons were still in hospitals today suffering from effects of breathing the fumes. Two or three of them were in a critical condition, but physicians expected the lives of the remainder would be saved through oxygen treatments.

PILOT DIES IN SHAM WARFARE

Selfridge Field Pilot Killed Instantly When Motor Fails

Yellow Springs, O., May 20 (AP)—Second Lieutenant Florin W. Shade of Hays, Kansas, attached to the first pursuit group of the United States army air corps at Selfridge field, Mich., fell to his death late today when his plane crashed in a plowed field a few miles west of here.

The first pursuit group is assigned to Norton field, Columbus, in the current army maneuvers, the mimic warfare over central and southern Ohio. Shade was flying to Norton field from Wright field, Dayton, when death overtook him.

Engine trouble apparently was the cause of the crash. P. A. Donley, near whose home the ship fell, said Shade was soaring along at an altitude of about 125 feet when his motor suddenly began to miss and then stopped entirely. The plane plunged into a nose dive and Shade had no chance to right it.

Donley ran to the field where the heap of wreckage had burrowed itself into the ground. The pilot apparently had been killed instantly, he said. His head was badly crushed.

Wright field, which is but eight miles west of the scene of the crash, was notified at once and army officers were dispatched to make an investigation.

Court Ruling on St. Louis and O'Fallon Case Affects Valuation of All Railroads

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The result of years of labor by the interstate commerce commission in valuing railroads for rate making and other purposes was seriously impaired today, if not entirely swept aside by the supreme court.

The highest tribunal, dividing 5 to 3, with Justice Butler not participating, held that the commission in its valuation work must observe such elements as the present cost of construction or reproduction.

The controversy reached the supreme court through an appeal by the St. Louis and O'Fallon railroad, a nine mile coal line in southern Illinois. It sought to have set aside an order issued by the interstate commerce commission calling for a refund of a part of its earnings. Coming under what is known as the recapture clause of the transportation act, permitting railroads to retain one-half of their earnings in excess of 6 per cent, and requiring them to pay over the government the other half, the case was based primarily on the validity of the methods used by the commission in valuing railroad property.

The opinion of the court was delivered by Justice McReynolds after a quoting of the law which requires the commission "to give due consideration to all elements of value recognized by the law of the land for rate-making purposes" and of the court's former decision on the subject of valuations for rate-making purposes. The opinion stated that among the elements "is the present cost of construction or reproduction."

The court did not indicate the weight to be given reproduction value, but it was the opinion of some of those familiar with the commission's valuation work that while the decision was in a recapture case it would affect all valuations of railroad property by the commission, including those for rate-making purposes.

Justice Holmes, Brandeis and Stone dissented. The latter two justices read statements explaining their contrary views but Justice Holmes merely assented to Brandeis' opinion.

WICKERSHAM IS LAW BODY HEAD

Former Attorney General Heads Law Enforcement Commission

Washington, May 20 (AP)—George W. Wickersham, attorney general in the Taft administration, has been selected by President Hoover as chairman of the national law enforcement commission and will have associated with him nine other lawyers and one woman representing all major geographical divisions of the country.

In announcing the personnel of the commission late today, White House officials said Mr. Wickersham would call the group together here later in the week to map out a preliminary program for work, which is expected to last upwards of two years and which is regarded by the chief executive as the most important task confronting his administration.

Heading the list of members of the commission is Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in the Wilson administration and chairman of the national crime commission. The other members are:

Frank J. Loesch, vice president of the Chicago crime commission; Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard law school; William I. Grubb, federal judge for the northern district of Alabama; Monte M. Lemann, president of the Louisiana Bar Association; William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, United States circuit judge; Kenneth R. McIntosh, former chief justice of the Washington state supreme court; Paul J. McCormick, federal judge for the southern district of California; Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass.

Lord Roseberry, Statesman And Author, Passes

Epsom, England, May 21 (Tuesday) (AP)—Lord Rose Rosebery, statesman, author and sportsman, died at 2:42 a. m. today.

The earl had celebrated his 82nd birthday only a fortnight ago by driving from his country home, Durdans, to Epsom Town in a barouche and apri, accompanied by a postillion in true Victorian style. Last Friday he caught a slight cold which grew rapidly worse.

Rutgers Student Dies In Annual "Pajama Rush"

New Brunswick, N. J., May 20 (AP)—Attempting to escape from a group of sophomores in the annual "pajama rush" between the freshmen and sophomores at Rutgers university tonight, William L. Farrier, 19, of Jersey City, a freshman, sank in the Delaware and Raritan canal tonight. He was rescued in about five minutes and taken to the New Brunswick hospital where he died without regaining consciousness.

PALLAS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Slayer of Officer During Detroit News Holdup Found Guilty

Detroit, May 20 (AP)—Calling him "an arch criminal," Judge W. McKay Skillman today sentenced Tommy Pallas to life imprisonment at the Michigan branch prison at Marquette for the murder of Sergt. George Barstad during a holdup of the Detroit News June 6.

Pallas was found guilty by a jury Saturday night. His co-defendants, Leon Webster and Frank Hallas, were acquitted. Edward J. Hayes, attorney for Pallas, announced he would start efforts for a new trial.

Before receiving sentence Pallas stated he had not been involved in the News holdup and thought he was convicted on his brother's record. Pallas' brother, Paul Jaworski, confessed he led the gang of six bandits who staged the holdup, before his execution in Pennsylvania last January.

Judge Skillman said he was certain the holdup was committed to get funds for Jaworski's defense in Pittsburgh. Sam Pallas, another brother, is serving a sentence there for having smuggled arms into the Allegheny county jail where Jaworski was being held for execution. The latter escaped and came to Detroit where he planned the News holdup.

To Push Peanut Up Mountain With Nose

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 20 (AP)—Bill Williams, a plasterer of Rio Hondo, Texas, set out today to convince the world he is the champion peanut pusher of the world by propelling a goober with his nose to the snow-covered summit of Pike's Peak.

Williams began his unusual journey from Rainbow Falls, in Ute Canyon. His destination is Summit House, 22 miles away. If all goes well he expects to progress toward his goal at the rate of a mile a day.

A device attached to his nose enables Williams to propel the peanut without loss of skin. Heavy gloves and knee pads fashioned out of automobile tires protect the pusher's hands and knees from sharp rocks. He expects to wear out many peanuts on the trip.

Williams' career as a peanut pusher began last fall, when he rolled a peanut from Rio Hondo to a neighboring town 11 miles distant over a paved Texas highway after losing an election bet.

Waiter Shoots Man; Plea, Self Defense

Monroe, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Claiming he fired in self defense, Yokim Kristovich, 37, a waiter in a Monroe restaurant, this noon shot and killed Daniel Dixon, 40, of Toledo.

According to Kristovich, the man entered the restaurant and asked first for money and then food. Being refused both he attacked Kristovich, who told police he reached behind the counter for a revolver with which he shot Dixon three times.

ROLL CALL ON EXPORT BONUS TO BE FORCED

RECORD EXPRESSION ON ISSUE IS PRIMARY

By RAYMOND Z. HENLE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 20 (AP) — A roll call vote in the house on the export debenture plan was seen as a possibility today after members of the farm relief conference committee from that branch had agreed, at the suggestion of the senate conferees, to ask their party leaders if such a vote might not be authorized.

Varying views were expressed immediately on whether the house should undertake such a vote because of the attitude there that the senate had no right to initiate the debenture section, and that indications were that the strongest inclination was to permit an early ballot in order to convince the senate that the plan was not desired by the house.

More definite information is expected to be laid before the conference committee tomorrow. This committee is attempting to compose the differences in the farm bills passed separately by the two congressional branches.

At the outset of today's meeting, senate members were confronted with what amounted to an ultimatum from house members that no sections of the two bills would be considered until the debenture controversy had been settled.

May Force Vote

Senate members countered with a contention that enactment of the farm bill would be seriously threatened unless house leaders permitted a vote in that branch directly on the debenture section. The house never has taken such a vote, the debenture plan having been barred from consideration as a part of the farm relief bill there on a point of order.

Serious threats have been voiced in the senate against the adoption of any conference report unless the house is permitted to vote on the debenture section. Among those who have called for such a vote is Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who declared that the extra session would not be permitted to adjourn until the house expressed itself.

TARIFF DEBATE NEARS AN END

May Call Close Today; Vote on Bill Not Far Off

Washington, May 20 (AP)—General debate on the tariff bill neared an end in the house today, with Democrats again opposing the proposed increased duties on manufactured products and opponents of an increase in the sugar tariff adding future protests.

Tentative plans call for closing debate tomorrow or Wednesday, after which another Republican conference will be called to agree upon a special rule to guide the measure through the amendment stage.

Before the house met today the majority members of the ways and means committee considered amendments the bill suggested by members who are working for higher rates than those provided. Sub-committees were prepared to study those amendments affecting schedules assigned to them during the writing of the bill and are expected to report to the 15 Republican committeemen tomorrow.

Should any of the proposals meet with favor, they will be offered as committee amendments on the floor.

Bad Weather Delays U. S., Rome Flight

Old Orchard, Maine, May 20 (AP)—Preparations of Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey, his navigator, to hop off in the monoplane "Green Flash" tomorrow on a projected flight to Rome were halted tonight by reports of bad weather along the ocean pathway. The fliers arrived here late today from the Teterboro Airport, N. J.

REPAIRS TO ZEP ARE UNDER WAY

Prepare for Return to Germany; Plans Are Uncertain

Cuers, France, May 20 (AP)—Engine repairs to the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin were well under way today, with the airship's crew and mechanics working day and night to get it ready for the return trip to Friedrichshafen.

Captain Lehmann today said all plans depended upon Dr. Hugo Eckener, who is expected to return from Friedrichshafen tomorrow morning.

The Zeppelin probably will have four motors in running condition by the time Dr. Eckener arrives. Two disabled engines were taken out and a new one installed today.

Crankshaft Broken

A third engine is on the way from Genoa, and the fourth will be one of two engines still aboard. Parts are to be taken from one to replace any found defective in the other.

The first motor dismounted had a broken crankshaft. The other had one side of the crank case almost completely smashed, were broken parts, presumably connecting rods, had torn through the steel wall.

The Germans are making only a superficial examination here, most of the parts being boxed and sent to the Zeppelin and Maybach motor works.

Gorilla Exhibited

Lieutenant Commander Vincent Clarke, U. S. Navy observer, Sir Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, and all the German passengers will be aboard when the Graf Zeppelin returns to Friedrichshafen.

The gorilla "Susi" seems to be the only passenger making any money out of the trip. She was taken to Nice for exhibition at the zoo, but was brought back, crated and shipped to Friedrichshafen by rail today. There she will be shown to the curious at two gold marks a look.

SPREADS TO 7 HOMES, HALL, FIRE STATION

ORIGIN NOT KNOWN; DAMAGE PLACED AT $20,000

More than $20,000 damage was caused by the fire which broke out in the foundry of the Chatfield Machine & Foundry Works, 718-722 Stephenson avenue, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and ignited the roofs of seven residences, the No. 2 fire station and Unity hall. None was injured.

The foundry and the blacksmith shop at the Chatfield plant were destroyed, the loss being approximately $18,000, which is partially covered by insurance. Fire and water damage to the homes and other buildings will approximate $5,000.

Continue Operations.

Operations at the Chatfield Machine & Foundry Works will continue as usual, Frank Shepeck, general manager, announced last night. The machine shop was untouched save for the roof being slightly scorched and a few windows broken. The foundry operations will be resumed at once in the old brass furnace building, a frame structure a short distance away which was not touched by the flames. Work of clearing up the debris will take several weeks, following which the foundry will be rebuilt.

Workmen had sufficient time to remove some valuable patterns used for casting parts for the Dewey Furnace company, and the fire will not hinder operations there.

Origin Undetermined.

The cause of the blaze is undetermined. Edward Stepanick, a foundryman, said he saw flames leaping up the south wall of the foundry building near the brass furnace, and then ran to the office to summon the fire department. The furnace fire had been extinguished shortly before, he said. Reports that there was a severe explosion were found to be unfounded. There was nothing of an explosive nature in the building, and the sudden flash and noise that was reported by residents in the neighborhood is believed to have been caused by the snapping of high-tension wires, near the burning building.

The heat of the flames was intense. Steel bars on the windows and the roof girders were twisted out of shape. The roof, which was of wood with composition covering, was quickly eaten up by the flames, and large embers were carried by the brisk south wind to buildings two blocks away.

Firehouse Catches.

The cupula and roof of the No. 2 hose station broke into flames shortly afterward, and while firemen were playing one stream there, fire was discovered in every home from the Chatfield plant to Unity hall. More than $1,000 damage was done to the fire station roof.

The Unity hall, 904 Stephenson avenue, suffered a loss of about $200. Firemen had to use hatchets to cut a hole in the roof there before they could effectually use the water hose.

The fire was all confined to the east side of Stephenson avenue.

Boy Puts Out Blaze.

The roof of the John Finstrom home, 830 Stephenson avenue, adjoining the fire station on the north side, caught afire, but a small boy with a garden hose went on the roof and put out the flames. He remained at his post until the fire station blaze had subsided.

Adjoining the hose station on the south side is the home of Gust Victorson, 824 Stephenson avenue, where the roof fire got well under way before it was called to the attention of the firemen. Volunteers removed the household goods from the house. The damage there is estimated at $300.

Wind Carries Sparks.

Other homes where roofs were ablaze, but lesser damage was done, were those of Charles Smith, 820 Stephenson avenue; Peter Gangenke, 812 Stephenson avenue; Alex Victorson, 810 Stephenson avenue; Ed Loeffler, 806 Stephenson avenue, and John Hoffman, 800 Stephenson avenue.

Sparks from the conflagration were carried by the south wind as far as the ore docks.

The foundry building is about 75 by 90 feet. Three of the walls were of concrete construction, while the south wall was of wood, as the company planned to enlarge on this side. The blacksmith shop was of similar dimensions but of wood construction. It was planned for some time to tear down this building to make room for the expansion of the foundry.

None Hurt.

The foundry building was built about four years ago. The chief stockholders in the Chatfield company are Frank and Hubert Shepeck and O. J. Thorsen.

The employees in the foundry at the time the fire broke out were

Some of them dropped $1 to $3 a share between sales. It looked like a concerted "bear" attack. "Stop loss" orders, which had been placed just below the market when higher federal rediscount rates seemed imminent last week, were touched off like a string of firecrackers, and the whole market broke wide open.

Brokers, who had just advised their customers that the O'Fallon decision probably would turn the market upward, were besieged with telephone calls demanding to know what had happened. These continued until long after the closing gong had sounded.

House May Vote on Debenture Plan

FOUNDERS OF CLINIC TELL BLAST STORY

NITROGEN DIOXIDE GAS CAUSED DEATHS

Cleveland, O., May 20 (AP)—The 124 deaths in the Cleveland clinic disaster were attributed to nitrogen dioxide gas in a statement late today by Dr. William E. Lower, a co-founder and director of the clinic.

Dr. Lower, giving the first official explanation of the catastrophe by a clinic official, said the poisonous gas was believed to have been generated by decomposition of the substance covering the X-ray plates which were stored in a room in the basement.

It was in this room, that two explosions occurred, filling the building with deadly fumes and claiming the lives of physicians, attendants, nurses and patients.

Founders to Testify

Together with Dr. George W. Crile, the leading spirit in founding of the clinic, Dr. Lower will be asked to give the clinic's version of the disaster tomorrow before the official investigating committee headed by Coroner A. J. Pearse. Dr. Crile said he had been too occupied caring for victims and moving the clinic's affairs to another building across the street to give any attention to the cause of the tragedy.

Meanwhile, Coroner Pearse directed the investigation to an examination of conditions in the basement of the clinic in the hope of determining the exact cause of ignition of the covering on the X-ray plates. Bufferty Boggs, steamfitter, who was the last person in the storage room, told how he was called to repair a leaking steampipe, of noticing the brownish yellow gas emanating from the X-ray plates, and of being almost blown from the room by the first explosion.

New Theory Advanced

The latest theory for combustion of the X-ray plates was advanced by William D. Guion, city building commissioner, who voiced the opinion that nearness of electric light bulbs to the plates might have caused their decomposition. He made a series of tests which tended to bear out his theory.

Coroner Pearse will continue questioning of witnesses and authorities tomorrow. He hopes to hold a formal public inquest later in the week.

More than 30 persons were still in hospitals today suffering from effects of breathing the fumes. Two or three of them were in a critical condition, but physicians expected the lives of the remainder would be saved through oxygen treatments.

PILOT DIES IN SHAM WARFARE

Selfridge Field Pilot Killed Instantly When Motor Fails

Yellow Springs, O., May 20 (AP)—Second Lieutenant Florin W. Shade of Hays, Kansas, attached to the first pursuit group of the United States army air corps at Selfridge field, Mich., fell to his death late today when his plane crashed in a plowed field a few miles west of here.

The first pursuit group is assigned to Norton field, Columbus, in the current army maneuvers, the mimic warfare over central and southern Ohio. Shade was flying to Norton field from Wright field, Dayton, when death overtook him.

Engine trouble apparently was the cause of the crash. P. A. Donley, near whose home the ship fell, said Shade was soaring along at an altitude of about 125 feet when his motor suddenly began to miss and then stopped entirely. The plane plunged into a nose dive and Shade had no chance to right it.

Donley ran to the field where the heap of wreckage had burrowed itself into the ground. The pilot apparently had been killed instantly, he said. His head was badly crushed.

Wright field, which is but eight miles west of the scene of the crash, was notified at once and army officers were dispatched to make an investigation.

Court Ruling on St. Louis and O'Fallon Case Affects Valuation of All Railroads

Washington, May 20 (AP)—The result of years of labor by the interstate commerce commission in valuing railroads for rate making and other purposes was seriously impaired today, if not entirely swept aside by the supreme court.

The highest tribunal, dividing 5 to 3, with Justice Butler not participating, held that the commission in its valuation work must observe such elements as the present cost of construction or reproduction.

The controversy reached the supreme court through an appeal by the St. Louis and O'Fallon railroad, a nine mile coal line in southern Illinois. It sought to have set aside an order issued by the interstate commerce commission calling for a refund of a part of its earnings. Coming under what is known as the recapture clause of the transportation act, permitting railroads to retain one-half of their earnings in excess of 6 per cent, and requiring them to pay over the government the other half, the case was based primarily on the validity of the methods used by the commission in valuing railroad property.

The opinion of the court was delivered by Justice McReynolds after a quoting of the law which requires the commission "to give due consideration to all elements of value recognized by the law of the land for rate-making purposes" and of the court's former decision on the subject of valuations for rate-making purposes. The opinion stated that among the elements "is the present cost of construction or reproduction."

The court did not indicate the weight to be given reproduction value, but it was the opinion of some of those familiar with the commission's valuation work that while the decision was in a recapture case it would affect all valuations of railroad property by the commission, including those for rate-making purposes.

Justice Holmer, Brandeis and Stone dissented. The latter two justices read statements explaining their contrary views but Justice Holmes merely assented to Brandeis' opinion.

WICKERSHAM IS LAW BODY HEAD

Former Attorney General Heads Law Enforcement Commission

Washington, May 20 (AP)—George W. Wickersham, attorney general in the Taft administration, has been selected by President Hoover as chairman of the national law enforcement commission and will have associated with him nine other lawyers and one woman representing all major geographical divisions of the country.

In announcing the personnel of the commission late today, White House officials said Mr. Wickersham would call the group together here later in the week to map out a preliminary program for work, which is expected to last upwards of two years and which is regarded by the chief executive as the most important task confronting his administration.

Heading the list of members of the commission is Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in the Wilson administration and chairman of the national crime commission. The other members are:

Frank J. Loesch, vice president of the Chicago crime commission; Roscoe Pound, dean of the Harvard law school; William I. Grubb, federal judge for the northern district of Alabama; Monte M. Lemann, president of the Louisiana Bar Association; William S. Kenyon, of Iowa, United States circuit judge; Kenneth R. McIntosh, former chief justice of the Washington state supreme court; Paul J. McCormick, federal judge for the southern district of California; Henry W. Anderson, of Richmond, Va., and Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass.

The earl had celebrated his 82nd birthday only a fortnight ago by driving from his country home, Durdans, to Epsom Town in a barouche and apri, accompanied by a postillion in true Victorian style. Last Friday he caught a slight cold which grew rapidly worse.

Rutgers Student Dies In Annual "Pajama Rush"

New Brunswick, N. J., May 20 (AP)—Attempting to escape from a group of sophomores in the annual "pajama rush" between the freshmen and sophomores at Rutgers university tonight, William L. Farrier, 19, of Jersey City, a freshman, sank in the Delaware and Raritan canal tonight. He was rescued in about five minutes and taken to the New Brunswick hospital where he died without regaining consciousness.

PALLAS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Slayer of Officer During Detroit News Holdup Found Guilty

Detroit, May 20 (AP)—Calling him "an arch criminal," Judge W. McKay Skillman today sentenced Tommy Pallas to life imprisonment at the Michigan branch prison at Marquette for the murder of Sergt. George Barstad during a holdup of the Detroit News June 6.

Pallas was found guilty by a jury Saturday night. His co-defendants, Leon Webster and Frank Hallas, were acquitted. Edward J. Hayes, attorney for Pallas, announced he would start efforts for a new trial.

Before receiving sentence Pallas stated he had not been involved in the News holdup and thought he was convicted on his brother's record. Pallas' brother, Paul Jaworski, confessed he led the gang of six bandits who staged the holdup, before his execution in Pennsylvania last January.

Judge Skillman said he was certain the holdup was committed to get funds for Jaworski's defense in Pittsburgh. Sam Pallas, another brother, is serving a sentence there for having smuggled arms into the Allegheny county jail where Jaworski was being held for execution. The latter escaped and came to Detroit where he planned the News holdup.

To Push Peanut Up Mountain With Nose

Colorado Springs, Colo., May 20 (AP)—Bill Williams, a plasterer of Rio Hondo, Texas, set out today to convince the world he is the champion peanut pusher of the world by propelling a goober with his nose to the snow-covered summit of Pike's Peak.

Williams began his unusual journey from Rainbow Falls, in Ute Canyon. His destination is Summit House, 22 miles away. If all goes well he expects to progress toward his goal at the rate of a mile a day.

A device attached to his nose enables Williams to propel the peanut without loss of skin. Heavy gloves and knee pads fashioned out of automobile tires protect the pusher's hands and knees from sharp rocks. He expects to wear out many peanuts on the trip.

Williams' career as a peanut pusher began last fall, when he rolled a peanut from Rio Hondo to a neighboring town 11 miles distant over a paved Texas highway after losing an election bet.

Waiter Shoots Man; Plea, Self Defense

Monroe, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Claiming he fired in self defense, Yokim Kristovich, 37, a waiter in a Monroe restaurant, this noon shot and killed Daniel Dixon, 40, of Toledo.

According to Kristovich, the man entered the restaurant and asked first for money and then food. Being refused both he attacked Kristovich, who told police he reached behind the counter for a revolver with which he shot Dixon three times.

ROLL CALL ON EXPORT BONUS TO BE FORCED

RECORD EXPRESSION ON ISSUE IS PRIMARY

By RAYMOND Z. HENLE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, May 20 (AP) — A roll call vote in the house on the export debenture plan was seen as a possibility today after members of the farm relief conference committtee from that branch had agreed, at the suggestion of the senate conferees, to ask their party leaders if such a vote might not be authorized.

Varying views were expressed immediately on whether the house should undertake such a vote because of the attitude there that the senate had no right to initiate the debenture section, and that indications were that the strongest inclination was to permit an early ballot in order to convince the senate that the plan was not desired by the house.

More definite information is expected to be laid before the conference committee tomorrow. This committee is attempting to compose the differences in the farm bills passed separately by the two congressional branches.

At the outset of today's meeting, senate members were confronted with what amounted to an ultimatum from house members that no sections of the two bills would be considered until the debenture controversy had been settled.

May Force Vote

Senate members countered with a contention that enactment of the farm bill would be seriously threatened unless house leaders permitted a vote in that branch directly on the debenture section. The house never has taken such a vote, the debenture plan having been barred from consideration as a part of the farm relief bill there on a point of order.

Serious threats have been voiced in the senate against the adoption of any conference report unless the house is permitted to vote on the debenture section. Among those who have called for such a vote is Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, who declared that the extra session would not be permitted to adjourn until the house expressed itself.

TARIFF DEBATE NEARS AN END

May Call Close Today; Vote on Bill Not Far Off

Washington, May 20 (AP)—General debate on the tariff bill neared an end in the house today, with Democrats again opposing the proposed increased duties on manufactured products and opponents of an increase in the sugar tariff adding future protests.

Tentative plans call for closing debate tomorrow or Wednesday, after which another Republican conference will be called to agree upon a special rule to guide the measure through the amendment stage.

Before the house met today the majority members of the ways and means committee considered amendments the bill suggested by members who are working for higher rates than those provided. Sub-committees were prepared to study those amendments affecting schedules assigned to them during the writing of the bill and are expected to report to the 15 Republican committeemen tomorrow.

Should any of the proposals meet with favor, they will be offered as committee amendments on the floor.

Bad Weather Delays U. S., Rome Flight

Old Orchard, Maine, May 20 (AP)—Preparations of Roger Q. Williams and Lewis A. Yancey, his navigator, to hop off in the monoplane "Green Flash" tomorrow on a projected flight to Rome were halted tonight by reports of bad weather along the ocean pathway. The fliers arrived here late today from the Teterboro Airport, N. J.

REPAIRS TO ZEP ARE UNDER WAY

Prepare for Return to Germany; Plans Are Uncertain

Cuers, France, May 20 (AP)—Engine repairs to the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin were well under way today, with the airship's crew and mechanics working day and night to get it ready for the return trip to Friedrichshafen.

Captain Lehmann today said all plans depended upon Dr. Hugo Eckener, who is expected to return from Friedrichshafen tomorrow morning.

The Zeppelin probably will have four motors in running condition by the time Dr. Eckener arrives. Two disabled engines were taken out and a new one installed today.

Crankshaft Broken

A third engine is on the way from Genoa, and the fourth will be one of two engines still aboard. Parts are to be taken from one to replace any found defective in the other.

The first motor dismounted had a broken crankshaft. The other had one side of the crank case almost completely smashed, were broken parts, presumably connecting rods, had torn through the steel wall.

The Germans are making only a superficial examination here, most of the parts being boxed and sent to the Zeppelin and Maybach motor works.

Gorilla Exhibited

Lieutenant Commander Vincent Clarke, U. S. Navy observer, Sir Hubert Wilkins, British explorer, and all the German passengers will be aboard when the Graf Zeppelin returns to Friedrichshafen.

The gorilla "Susi" seems to be the only passenger making any money out of the trip. She was taken to Nice for exhibition at the zoo, but was brought back, crated and shipped to Friedrichshafen by rail today. There she will be shown to the curious at two gold marks a look.

SPREADS TO 7 HOMES, HALL, FIRE STATION

ORIGIN NOT KNOWN; DAMAGE PLACED AT $20,000

More than $20,000 damage was caused by the fire which broke out in the foundry of the Chatfield Machine & Foundry Works, 718-722 Stephenson avenue, about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and ignited the roofs of seven residences, the No. 2 fire station and Unity hall. None was injured.

The foundry and the blacksmith shop at the Chatfield plant were destroyed, the loss being approximately $18,000, which is partially covered by insurance. Fire and water damage to the homes and other buildings will approximate $5,000.

Continue Operations.

Operations at the Chatfield Machine & Foundry Works will continue as usual, Frank Shepeck, general manager, announced last night. The machine shop was untouched save for the roof being slightly scorched and a few windows broken. The foundry operations will be resumed at once in the old brass furnace building, a frame structure a short distance away which was not touched by the flames. Work of clearing up the debris will take several weeks, following which the foundry will be rebuilt.

Workmen had sufficient time to remove some valuable patterns used for casting parts for the Dewey Furnace company, and the fire will not hinder operations there.

Origin Undetermined.

The cause of the blaze is undetermined. Edward Stephanick, a foundryman, said he saw flames leaping up the south wall of the foundry building near the brass furnace, and then ran to the office to summon the fire department. The furnace fire had been extinguished shortly before, he said. Reports that there was a severe explosion were found to be unfounded. There was nothing of an explosive nature in the building, and the sudden flash and noise that was reported by residents in the neighborhood is believed to have been caused by the snapping of high-tension wires, near the burning building.

The heat of the flames was intense. Steel bars on the windows and the roof girders were twisted out of shape. The roof, which was of wood with composition covering, was quickly eaten up by the flames, and large embers were carried by the brisk south wind to buildings two blocks away.

Firehouse Catches.

The cupula and roof of the No. 2 hose station broke into flames shortly afterward, and while firemen were playing one stream there, fire was discovered in every home from the Chatfield plant to Unity hall. More than $1,000 damage was done to the fire station roof.

The Unity hall, 904 Stephenson avenue, suffered a loss of about $200. Firemen had to use hatchets to cut a hole in the roof there before they could effectually use the water hose.

The fire was all confined to the east side of Stephenson avenue.

Boy Puts Out Blaze.

The roof of the John Finstrom home, 830 Stephenson avenue, adjoining the fire station on the north side, caught afire, but a small boy with a garden hose went on the roof and put out the flames. He remained at his post until the fire station blaze had subsided.

Adjoining the hose station on the south side is the home of Gust Victorson, 824 Stephenson avenue, where the roof fire got well under way before it was called to the attention of the firemen. Volunteers removed the household goods from the house. The damage there is estimated at $300.

Wind Carries Sparks.

Other homes where roofs were ablaze, but lesser damage was done, were those of Charles Smith, 820 Stephenson avenue; Peter Gangenke, 812 Stephenson avenue; Alex Victorson, 810 Stephenson avenue; Ed Loeffler, 806 Stephenson avenue, and John Hoffman, 800 Stephenson avenue.

Sparks from the conflagration were carried by the south wind as far as the ore docks.

The foundry building is about 75 by 90 feet. Three of the walls were of concrete construction, while the south wall was of wood, as the company planned to enlarge on this side. The blacksmith shop was of similar dimensions but of wood construction. It was planned for some time to tear down this building to make room for the expansion of the foundry.

None Hurt.

The foundry building was built about four years ago. The chief stockholders in the Chatfield company are Frank and Hubert Shepeck and O. J. Thorsen.

The employees in the foundry at the time the fire broke out were

Adolph Hall, foreman, Winand Lorits, Charles Thiry, Robert Patterson, Ernest Gafner, Percy Utt and Edward Stephanick. None of them was hurt as they all had plenty of time to escape.

Gladstone Responds.

With a heavy south wind fanning the flames, the Escanaba police department did a creditable piece of work in putting out the series of fires in the other buildings. Six lines of hose were put into action, and for awhile these did not seem to be enough to cope with the flames. The Gladstone fire department was called, but was not pressed into service as the fire was then under control. The fire on the roofs of the fire station and the Victorson home had gotten a good headway by the time some of the firemen were able to leave the Chatfield plant. Part of the fire-fighting force remained at the Chatfield fire until 6 o'clock, playing a stream of water on the smoldering debris to guard against new outbreaks.

Chief Thanks Volunteers.

Last night, Chief Arvid Johnson expressed his appreciation of the co-operation given by men who volunteered their services to fight the flames. He was also thankful for the offer of assistance from the Gladstone fire department.

Volunteers aided the firemen in handling the hose, some got out garden hose and put out small fires, while others removed furniture from homes seriously threatened.

"Without the help of the volunteers, I am sure the fire would have caused much damage to the homes," Chief Johnson declared.

MASONIC RALLY HELD MONDAY

Over 250 Hear Address of J. L. Thompson, Detroit

Over 250 members of various upper peninsula lodges attended the Masonic rally held at the Masonic Temple, here, last night. Fully one hundred of these were out-of-town members.

J. L. Thompson, Detroit, of the Michigan grand lodge, was the principal speaker at the banquet. Mr. Thompson is a director of the Eastman Aircraft company of Detroit, and is a prominent figure in commercial aviation. He served on the organization board of the National War Savings commission during the World war.

Using as his subject: "Keepers of the Temple" he reviewed Masonry from its inception to the present time, and explained how it should be applied.

Fred J. Earle acted as toastmaster at the banquet. A. J. Young spoke briefly on "Masonic Homes" and the Masonic orchestra rendered several selections.

PILOT CLAIMS FLIGHT RECORD

Shatters Endurance Record for 90-Horsepower Planes

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., May 20 (AP)—An endurance record for airplanes powered by 90-horsepower motors was claimed tonight by Laurie Yonge, veteran Jacksonville aviator, who remained aloft in his monoplane "Hotsy Totsy" for 25 hours and 5 minutes, before bringing it to a landing on the beach here shortly afternoon today.

The previous mark for planes powered with similar motors was made by Miss Eleanor Smith of New York. She remained in the air for 13 hours and 19 minutes.

In establishing his mark, Yonge successfully combatted two thunderstorms which forced him to deviate from his monotonous route over the beach. He was compelled to fly as far as Palatka, in the central part of the state, late yesterday to avoid inclement weather.

The second storm caught the aviator just before he finished his flight, with his fuel tanks virtually empty. Fighting choppy winds and rain squalls, he kept his ship aloft until he had less than a gallon of gas left.

Yonge had planned to remain in the air until his fuel was exhausted, but when the storm blew up in the last minutes of the flight, he decided to use the remaining gasoline for landing.

Had "Tough Time."

"Between storms and keeping awake," Yonge said after he had landed, "I had a tough time. I ate all but one of the dozen sandwiches I took with me. This morning I gave out of water and coffee and pinched myself to keep awake."

Yonge took off from the beach at 12 noon yesterday with 156 gallons of gasoline and five gallons of oil. He claimed the total weight of his plane—2800 pounds—was the largest load ever lifted from the ground by a 90-horsepower motor.

In accomplishing his feat, Yonge surpassed by 11 hours and 46 minutes the mark set by Miss Smith. Airman here said his flight demonstrated that small aircraft could be used successfully in sustained flight.

Monroe—Dorothy Wuis, 18, waitress in a Monroe restaurant, was drowned in 18 inches of water yesterday when an automobile in which she was riding, driven by Daniel Albon, 20, of Belles Harbor, turned over in a ditch near here. Albon, who claimed lights of an approaching car blinded him, was held for questioning.

BRITAIN HOLDS NOMINATION DAY

4 Conservatives, 3 Nationalists Return Unopposed

London, May 20 (AP)—Nomination day for the British parliamentary elections May 30 anticipated today in seven cases the suffrage of the nation.

Four Conservative candidates and three Nationalists, including "Tay Pay" O'Connor, "father of the house of commons," were returned unopposed to the next parliament by the simple act of filing their nomination papers.

Conservatives jestingly claimed a "plurality of one" in the new house and took it as an augury of success May 30.

Those elected by acclamation included the speaker of the house, A. E. Fitzroy, Conservative candidate for Daventry, Northhamptonshire, and the Nationalist, T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, who will continue to represent the Scotland division of Liverpool. He first represented this constituency in 1885.

Follow Tradition

The Conservatives obtained two acclamations in Northern Ireland, where Major Ronald Ross was unopposed in Londonderry, and Col. T. Sinclair was unopposed as candidate for Belfast (Queen's) University.

H. Douglas King, minister of mines in the Baldwin ministery, was elected by acclamation in Paddington South, London.

Tradition is long-founded in Great Britain that the speaker of the house, being above party, should be unopposed, so that the acclamation accorded Mr. Fitzroy today was anticipated.

Acclamations are not new to "Tay Pay" O'Connor. His entry to the house of commons for more than a decade has been without a political fight.

Lloyd George Opposed

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, was the only one of the three party chieftains to attend his own nomination. He is standing again in Carnarvon District, Wales, and is opposed by J. Bowen Davies, K. C., Conservatives, and Thomas R. Rhys, Laborite.

Visiting Lancashire today, where he addressed holiday gatherings at Fleetwood and Blackpool, Premier Baldwin left his supporters to look after his interests in his constituency of Bewdley, Worcester. Both opposition parties have candidates in the field. The Liberal is S. B. Carter, and the Laborite Sardius Hancock.

French Golf Meet Attracts Stars From Many Lands

Paris, May 20 (AP)—The finest field of golfers yet brought together in France will begin a 72-hole medal play competition tomorrow over the course of the St. Cloud Country club.

Several members of the Ryder cup teams of the United States and Great Britain reached Paris today to take part in St. Cloud's "International Championships." Seventy entries have been attracted from England, the United States, Spain, South Africa, Argentina and France.

Sponge Squad Hits The Garfield House

Jay Smith, proprietor of the Garfield House, 1002 First avenue north, was arrested Saturday night by a raiding squad composed of state police, sheriff's department and local police. He was arraigned yesterday before Justice James Doherty on the charge of violating the prohibition law. Hearing was set for June 3, and he was released on $500 bond.

Wolverines to Play Series With M. S. C.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Coach Ray Fisher plans to leave his two pitching stars, Bill McAfee and Freddie Asbeck at home when he takes his baseball team to East Lansing tomorrow for the first of the Wolverines' three games with Michigan State college. Most of the regulars will play in other positions, however. McAffee, Asbeck and Catcher Joe Truskowski will not accompany the squad on the trip.

Montague, sophomore hurler, has been named by Fisher to start the game, with Compton held in reserve. Reichman, who did most of the catching last year, will work behind the plate. Centenni will be taken along to catch or play in the infield. Eastman, another substitute infielder, may get into the game.

KIWANIANS LAUD EMPSON

Congratulatory Resolution on Election Is Adopted

It is resolved that copies of these resolutions be forwarded by the president of the Escanaba and Wells Kiwanis club to the Rotary clubs of Escanaba and Gladstone, and to Mr. Empson as a token of our esteem and best wishes.

Safety Campaign To Start Thursday

Testing of cars in the statewide traffic safety campaign scheduled to be started yesterday by local officers, was postponed until Thursday. Every available man was used yesterday in fighting the blaze at the Chatfield foundry, and today members of the force will participate in the burial services of a member of the staff. Things will be in readiness for Thursday, however, and testing of brakes, lights, horns and signal apparatus will get under way.

PLOT CAUSED MORROW VISIT

Daughter Threatened in Attempt to Extort $50,000

Boston, May 20 (AP)—The Boston Post in a copyrighted story tomorrow will say that a plot to extort $50,000 from Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, by threats of mutilation and death to his youngest daughter, Constance, was responsible for the unheralded flight of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and members of the Morrow family to North Haven, Me., Saturday.

The Post will say that the plot was responsible for the guard of secret service operatives which has been posted about the Morrow summer home. It will say that Constance was secretly spirited away from Milton Academy here, while another girl impersonated her. The girl is 15 years old and a sophomore at the academy.

The story will explain that Miss Morrow first received a letter demanding $50,000 and threatening her with harm if she did not get it and leave it at a named spot. She showed the letter to school authorities and her family was notified. A guard was assigned to watch over her.

Detail Torture

A second letter, more scurrilous than the first, describing in detail the torture she would undergo if the money was not forthcoming, was received by the girl, the Post will say. It gave detailed instructions as to how the money was to be delivered last Saturday afternoon. When this letter was received an appeal was made by the Morrow family to Ambassador Morrow's former partners in the firm of J. P. Morgan and company and action also was taken at Washington.

Secret service operatives and private detectives were sent to work on the case and guard the girl, the Post will say.

It was decided to move her from the school secretly. This was done and her arrival in New York was timed for Colonel Lindbergh's hop-off with other members of the Morrow family. The Post will say that Lindbergh's failure to use his regular landing field at New York and the secrecy veiling his flight was due to the plot.

Tran Fails

The Post will say that the impersonator of the Morrow girl followed the instructions in the last letter Saturday and left a bundle at the designated spot. Detectives watched but no one came to claim the package. The story will say that the watch was being kept tonight in spite of the fact that the authorities believed news of the girl's flight to North Haven with other members of her family frightened the would-be kidnaper.

It will say that the guard about the Morrow home is not to keep curiosity seekers away from Colonel Lindbergh and his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow, but to protect the 15-year-old student.

Governor Delays Action on Bills

Lansing, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Governor Green today delayed action on the Atwood relicted land bill and the Woodruff osteopathy measure pending hearings requested by proponents of the measures.

With the attorney general he waded through scores of legislative proposals just received from the printer. He said he will veto or approve several tomorrow.

Osteopaths have flooded the executive office with messages asking that he sign the bill giving them separate recognition and regulation. The Woodruff bill was the only one of three in the so-called healing group to pass.

There is a sharp division on the relicted land measure, with conservation department heads opposing it and real estate operators and upland owners insisting it must be enacted.

STATE WILL ADD TO PRESERVES

Award Contract for Building of Menominee River Bridge

Lansing, Mich., May 20 (AP)—The state administrative board today authorized expenditures to round out two state preserves. The conservation department was directed to spend $4,575 for 1,040 acres to add to the Otsego preserve and $1,200 for 720 acres for the Ogemay state forest.

The board also approved expenditure of $1,000 for improvements in the Interlochen state park, $1,300 for extension of light and power lines to Camp Grayling, and $750 for improvements in the Hansen military reserve.

The board released a $5,000 appropriation to finance a committee to pro-rate production in the Muskegon oil field. The committee was authorized by an act of the legislature.

It also granted $20,000 of a $60,000 appropriation for the American Legion hospital at Camp Custer.

The claim of about 25 Monroe county farmers for damages alleged to have been incurred by corn borer cleanups was not allowed.

An offer to donate the right-of-way for a 204-foot cut-off on US-16 around Farmington was submitted to the board by J. W. Lathrop and referred to the highway committee.

50 STRIKERS GO ON TRIAL

Charged With Contempt; Injunction to Be Tested

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 20 (AP)—Test of an injunction prohibiting striking workers from picketing the highways, was delayed today, as Chancellor Miller set trials of fifty strikers on contempt charges for Wednesday.

The fifty strikers are charged with contempt for alleged violation of an injunction granted the American Glansstoff and American Bemberg restraining the more than 5,000 striking employes from interfering with the operations of the plants.

Trials of 15 had been set for today, but nearly two score strikers arrested on various charges last week were identified and charged with contempt of court. Several strikers given a hearing last week were ordered released because they were unidentified. Contempt charges were brought by anti-strike leaders who allege picketing violates terms of the injunction.

Object to Patroling.

Announcement was made by William F. Kelly, vice president of the United Textile Workers of America, and Major Paul Divine, counsel for the union, that the strikers would take legal steps against the textile corporations and Adjutant General W. C. Boyd, who is directing national guardsmen acting as state police in maintaining order in the strike area.

Divine said a petition for an injunction would be filed probably Wednesday seeking to restrain national guardsmen from patroling public highways.

In—"Two Weeks Off"

Adolph Hall, foreman, Winand Lortz, Charles Thiry, Robert Patterson, Ernest Gafner, Percy Utt and Edward Stephanick. None of them was hurt as they all had plenty of time to escape.

Gladstone Responds.

With a heavy south wind fanning the flames, the Escanaba police department did a creditable piece of work in putting out the series of fires in the other buildings. Six lines of hose were put into action, and for awhile these did not seem to be enough to cope with the flames. The Gladstone fire department was called, but was not pressed into service as the fire was then under control. The fire on the roofs of the fire station and the Victorson home had gotten a good headway by the time some of the firemen were able to leave the Chatfield plant. Part of the fire-fighting force remained at the Chatfield fire until 6 o'clock, playing a stream of water on the smoldering debris to guard against new outbreaks.

Chief Thanks Volunteers.

Last night, Chief Arvid Johnson expressed his appreciation of the co-operation given by men who volunteered their services to fight the flames. He was also thankful for the offer of assistance from the Gladstone fire department.

Volunteers aided the firemen in handling the hose, some got out garden hose and put out small fires, while others removed furniture from homes seriously threatened.

"Without the help of the volunteers, I am sure the fire would have caused much damage to the homes," Chief Johnson declared.

MASONIC RALLY HELD MONDAY

Over 250 Hear Address of J. L. Thompson, Detroit

Over 250 members of various upper peninsula lodges attended the Masonic rally held at the Masonic Temple, here, last night. Fully one hundred of these were out-of-town members.

J. L. Thompson, Detroit, of the Michigan grand lodge, was the principal speaker at the banquet. Mr. Thompson is a director of the Eastman Aircraft company of Detroit, and is a prominent figure in commercial aviation. He served on the organization board of the National War Savings commission during the World war.

Using as his subject: "Keepers of the Temple" he reviewed Masonry from its inception to the present time, and explained how it should be applied.

Fred J. Earle acted as toastmaster at the banquet. A. J. Young spoke briefly on "Masonic Homes" and the Masonic orchestra rendered several selections.

PILOT CLAIMS FLIGHT RECORD

Shatters Endurance Record for 90-Horsepower Planes

Jacksonville Beach, Fla., May 20 (AP)—An endurance record for airplanes powered by 90-horsepower motors was claimed tonight by Laurie Yonge, veteran Jacksonville aviator, who remained aloft in his monoplane "Hotsy Totsy" for 25 hours and 5 minutes, before bringing it to a landing on the beach here shortly afternoon today.

The previous mark for planes powered with similar motors was made by Miss Eleanor Smith of New York. She remained in the air for 13 hours and 19 minutes.

In establishing his mark, Yonge successfully combatted two thunderstorms which forced him to deviate from his monotonous route over the beach. He was compelled to fly as far as Palatka, in the central part of the state, late yesterday to avoid inclement weather.

The second storm caught the aviator just before he finished his flight, with his fuel tanks virtually empty. Fighting choppy winds and rain squalls, he kept his ship aloft until he had less than a gallon of gas left.

Yonge had planned to remain in the air until his fuel was exhausted, but when the storm blew up in the last minutes of the flight, he decided to use the remaining gasoline for landing.

Had "Tough Time."

"Between storms and keeping awake," Yonge said after he had landed, "I had a tough time. I ate all but one of the dozen sandwiches I took with me. This morning I gave out of water and coffee and pinched myself to keep awake."

Yonge took off from the beach at 12 noon yesterday with 156 gallons of gasoline and five gallons of oil. He claimed the total weight of his plane—2800 pounds—was the largest load ever lifted from the ground by a 90-horsepower motor.

In accomplishing his feat, Yonge surpassed by 11 hours and 46 minutes the mark set by Miss Smith. Airman here said his flight demonstrated that small aircraft could be used successfully in sustained flight.

Monroe—Dorothy Wuis, 18, waitress in a Monroe restaurant, was drowned in 18 inches of water yesterday when an automobile in which she was riding, driven by Daniel Albon, 20, of Bolles Harbor, turned over in a ditch near here. Albon, who claimed lights of an approaching car blinded him, was held for questioning.

BRITAIN HOLDS NOMINATION DAY

4 Conservatives, 3 Nationalists Return Unopposed

London, May 20 (AP)—Nomination day for the British parliamentary elections May 30 anticipated today in seven cases the suffrage of the nation.

Four Conservative candidates and three Nationalists, including "Tay Pay" O'Connor, "father of the house of commons," were returned unopposed to the next parliament by the simple act of filing their nomination papers.

Conservatives jestingly claimed a "plurality of one" in the new house and took it as an augury of success May 30.

Those elected by acclamation included the speaker of the house, A. E. Fitzroy, Conservative candidate for Daventry, Northhamptonshire, and the Nationalist, T. P. (Tay Pay) O'Connor, who will continue to represent the Scotland division of Liverpool. He first represented this constituency in 1885.

Follow Tradition

The Conservatives obtained two acclamations in Northern Ireland, where Major Ronald Ross was unopposed in Londonderry, and Col T. Sinclair was unopposed as candidate for Belfast (Queen's) University.

H. Douglas King, minister of mines in the Baldwin ministery, was elected by acclamation in Paddington South, London.

Tradition is long-founded in Great Britain that the speaker of the house, being above party, should be unopposed, so that the acclamation accorded Mr. Fitzroy today was anticipated.

Acclamations are not new to "Tay Pay" O'Connor. His entry to the house of commons for more than a decade has been without a political fight.

Lloyd George Opposed

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, was the only one of the three party chieftains to attend his own nomination. He is standing again in Carnarvon District, Wales, and is opposed by J. Bowen Davies, K. C., Conservatives, and Thomas R. Rhys, Laborite.

Visiting Lancashire today, where he addressed holiday gatherings at Fleetwood and Blackpool, Premier Baldwin left his supporters to look after his interests in his constituency of Bewdley, Worcester. Both opposition parties have candidates in the field. The Liberal is S. B. Carter, and the Laborite Sardius Hancock.

Most of the regulars will play in other positions, however. McAffee, Asbeck and Catcher Joe Truskowski will not accompany the squad on the trip.

Safety Campaign To Start Thursday

Testing of cars in the statewide traffic safety campaign scheduled to be started yesterday by local officers, was postponed until Thursday. Things will be in readiness for Thursday, however, and testing of brakes, lights, horns and signal apparatus will get under way.

PLOT CAUSED MORROW VISIT

Daughter Threatened in Attempt to Extort $50,000

Boston, May 20 (AP)—The Boston Post in a copyrighted story tomorrow will say that a plot to extort $50,000 from Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico, by threats of mutilation and death to his youngest daughter, Constance, was responsible for the unheralded flight of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and members of the Morrow family to North Haven, Me., Saturday.

The Post will say that the plot was responsible for the guard of secret service operatives which has been posted about the Morrow summer home. It will say that Constance was secretly spirited away from Milton Academy here, while another girl impersonated her. The girl is 15 years old and a sophomore at the academy.

The story will explain that Miss Morrow first received a letter demanding $50,000 and threatening her with harm if she did not get it and leave it at a named spot. She showed the letter to school authorities and her family was notified. A guard was assigned to watch over her.

Detail Torture

A second letter, more scurrilous than the first, describing in detail the torture she would undergo if the money was not forthcoming, was received by the girl, the Post will say. It gave detailed instructions as to how the money was to be delivered last Saturday afternoon. When this letter was received an appeal was made by the Morrow family to Ambassador Morrow's former partners in the firm of J. P. Morgan and company and action also was taken at Washington.

Secret service operatives and private detectives were sent to work on the case and guard the girl, the Post will say.

It was decided to move her from the school secretly. This was done and her arrival in New York was timed for Colonel Lindbergh's hop-off with other members of the Morrow family. The Post will say that Lindbergh's failure to use his regular landing field at New York and the secrecy veiling his flight was due to the plot.

Trap Fails

The Post will say that the impersonator of the Morrow girl followed the instructions in the last letter Saturday and left a bundle at the designated spot. Detectives watched but no one came to claim the package. The story will say that the watch was being kept tonight in spite of the fact that the authorities believed news of the girl's flight to North Haven with other members of her family frightened the would-be kidnaper.

It will say that the guard about the Morrow home is not to keep curiosity seekers away from Colonel Lindbergh and his fiancee, Miss Anne Morrow, but to protect the 15-year-old student.

Governor Delays Action on Bills

Lansing, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Governor Green today delayed action on the Atwood relicted land bill and the Woodruff osteopathy measure pending hearings requested by proponents of the measures.

With the attorney general he waded through scores of legislative proposals just received from the printer. He said he will veto or approve several tomorrow.

Osteopaths have flooded the executive office with messages asking that he sign the bill giving them separate recognition and regulation. The Woodruff bill was the only one of three in the so-called healing group to pass.

There is a sharp division on the relicted land measure, with conservation department heads opposing it and real estate operators and upland owners insisting it must be enacted.

STATE WILL ADD TO PRESERVES

Award Contract for Building of Menominee River Bridge

Lansing, Mich., May 20 (AP)—The state administrative board today authorized expenditures to round out two state preserves. The conservation department was directed to spend $4,575 for 1,040 acres to add to the Otsego preserve and $1,200 for 720 acres for the Ogemay state forest.

It also granted $20,000 of a $60,000 appropriation for the American Legion hospital at Camp Custer.

The claim of about 25 Monroe county farmers for damages alleged to have been incurred by corn borer cleanups was not allowed.

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 20 (AP)—Test of an injunction prohibiting striking workers from picketing the highways, was delayed today, as Chancellor Miller set trials of fifty strikers on contempt charges for Wednesday.

The fifty strikers are charged with contempt for alleged violation of an injunction granted the American Glanzstoff and American Bemberg restraining the more than 5,000 striking employes from interfering with the operations of the plants.

Trials of 15 had been set for today, but nearly two score strikers arrested on various charges last week were identified and charged with contempt of court. Several strikers given a hearing last week were ordered released because they were unidentified. C. Boyd, who is directing national guardsmen acting as state police in maintaining order in the strike area.

Divine said a petition for an injunction would be filed probably Wednesday seeking to restrain national guardsmen from patroling public highways.

POPULATION statistics collected by the United States government show that at the beginning of 1929 the country's rural population had reached the lowest point in 30 years. The shift from country to city, it is indicated, will persist for some time. Government estimates show that there are now 27,511,000 people residing on the farms, a net loss of 188,000 in the last year. Since 1920 the lure of the city has caused a net migration of 3,471,000 people from the farms. Less than a century ago more than 80 per cent of America's population was made up of tillers of the soil. This rate has steadily dwindled until now it stands at only 22 percent. We have become an urban, rather than a rural-dwelling people in the last three decades.

Commenting on this situation, Allard Smith, of Cleveland, noted banker and economist, says:

"The trek to the cities has been greatly accelerated in recent years by the insatiable demand for labor in the great and rapidly expanding industrial centers of the country, as well as by some post-war decline in farm prices. A recent survey covering 20,000 farm families who had gone to cities in the last eight years showed that 7500 had migrated because of low farm prices and high taxes; 5000 went because of old age; 2200 went to get better schooling for children; 500 retired to the greater comfort of city life, while the remainder went for many scattered reasons.

"The rural exodus has brought no food shortage problem to the nation, although the total number of mouths to feed has jumped from 75,994,000 in 1900 to 120,000,000 at present. The days of slow, cumbersome hand tilling are gone and in their place has come an era of mechanized farms, with tractors and many other mechanical aids to make up for the loss of man power."

More mouths to feed; fewer hands to provide the food; that means that the most successful farmer of the future will be the farmer who calls to his aid the recent, modern mechanical and scientific aids. He must know "why" to farm as well as "how" farm.

The "4-H" club work as it is being carried on in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan is taking the "why" into the rural communities where only the "how" has been present before. We believe that this farm club work is one of the most important activities in progress in this region.

That business men of the Escanaba realize its importance is shown by the support given by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in providing recognition for the county champions at the round-up last Saturday.

ONE AFTER ANOTHER.

CHICAGO, within a couple of weeks, in one way or another got rid of four notorious gangsters. Two of them, Scalisi and Anselmi, were found shot to death in an abandoned auto in Hammond, Ind., and two others, Al Capone and his bodyguard, Frankie Cline, were jailed in Philadelphia for a year for carrying concealed weapons.

At the very worst, Chicago is rid of four undesirable citizens—two of them permanently. But Scalisi and Anselmi should have been hanged years ago. In 1925 they killed two policemen in a running gun battle but by means of clever lawyers and dumb juries they managed to escape punishment. Scalisi was under indictment for the St. Valentine's day affair and Anselmi was suspected of having a hand in that affair. Capone has been suspected of everything that has happened in and near Chicago for five years or except the long count on Tunney, and Cline has been a modest but efficient trigger-finger for the scarfaced vice czar.

Yes, it was good riddance. Chicago should have been considerably comforted and would have been except for one thing.

It is reported that John Torrio, the man who is supposed to have taught Capone all the latter knows about racketeering, will return to take up the scepter.

So the profits are wiped out. The net gain is negligible. Poor Chicago!

A St. Louis newspaper man got the Pulitzer prize for the best reportorial work of the year. Before awarding next year's prize the committee should hear the important news stories confided from fence to fence along our street almost any morning.

A HEALER AND A KILLER

THE MOST tragic thing about the terrible catastrophe at the Cleveland Clinic hospital is that it happened simply because the institution was conducted along the most modern and efficient lines.

No hospital in the country made such use of X-ray photographs in the diagnosis and treatment of disease. Hundreds and hundreds of lives have been saved by the long rows of X-ray films in the basement of the building.

Yet it was these X-ray films that caused the tragedy. They caught fire from spontaneous combustion when a leaky steampipe overheated the room; and, in burning, they gave off the poisonous gasses that brought death to 120 men and women.

It was an odd, ironic twist of fate that turned one of medical science's greatest allies into a death-dealing force of terror.

"Do you know how to eat?" asks an advertisement. We know how but the question of when and where has frequently perturbed us.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES.

ANOTHER sign of the times in regard to the future of aviation is found in General Motors' purchase of 40 per cent of the stock of the Fokker airplane concern.

Ford was the first of the big automobile manufacturers to enter the aviation field, and the Stout monoplanes he builds are giving service all over the country.

Then Packard followed suit by experimenting with a Diesel engine for airplanes. This engine, it is said, is now about ready for the market.

Now General Motors steps in. Obviously, these automobile manufacturers see a tremendous future in that field. They are providing for their participation in it by getting in now, while the growth is only beginning.

Now it is announced that Chicago is to have the tallest building in the world. A city has to get a little publicity some way.

CHAPTER XIX

Mildred made her condition to Harold with purposeful unexpectedness. She wanted to take him off his guard, to catch him unawares. It was more or less a guess that he was in fear of Huck Connor, but she hoped to surprise the truth from him.

And she very nearly succeeded. Harold sat back in his chair as though he had been forcibly pushed there. His lips went white and his eyes took on an expression that almost made Mildred regret her words.

But she did not try to retract them. She was certain of her surmise now. It was Huck Connor who was at the bottom of the pitiable change that had come over Harold in the past few weeks.

He leaned over and picked up a glass of water. A few drops spilled on the tablecloth as he lifted it. Mildred waited for him to speak.

"You're too clever," he said finally, putting the glass away from his lips.

"No," Mildred said quickly, softly, "I guess I've been terribly stupid trying to pry into your affairs like this, Harold. But I can't see you going on, looking worse and worse, probably getting deeper into something that's ruining you, without saying a word. You know it isn't idle curiosity. I want to help you."

Harold nodded. "Yes, I know that," he said, "but I wish you would forget about it. It can't do any good for you to know what's happened. It will come out all right. No need to worry."

• • •

Mildred knew that he was talking to bolster up his own courage. She sighed deeply. Her courage needed bolstering, too. So much that in a few days that followed she came near forgetting Harold's mysterious troubles. She had pursued one will-o'-the-wisp position after another without getting any, until she began seriously to worry.

And back of the fatigue of daily battle with subway crowds, elevator jams, long waits on hard office chairs and disheartening requests to leave her name and address, was the dull ache of longing for sight of a certain beloved face.

The merry brown eyes and cheery smile that belonged to Stephen Armitage haunted her. She told herself that she was a fool for giving him a thought, but it didn't matter what she told herself. She was in love with him.

Mildred had not wasted her emotions in trival affairs. Her whole heart belonged to Stephen and life was just an empty void without him, but a void filled with vagrant, unwelcome thoughts that turned sharp knives in her heart and dulled her eyes.

Stephen had not called since Mildred lost her position at the Judson. That week of memories, when she had been at home with her mother, began to seem to Mildred like a dream. It had promised so much. . . . and come to nothing.

Stephen thought of it, too, at times, and wondered how a girl who was as lovely as Mildred could be such a scheming, cold-blooded little creature. It was hard to believe, but why he asked himself, did she want to encourage a kid like Harold if she wasn't after his money?

Pamela had put the question to him when she told him why Mildred had been fired, and Stephen had tried unsuccessfully to answer it with credit to Mildred. Since then it had lodged in his mind and grown into an accusation, still unanswered.

"I suppose Mr. Dazel cabled dad about it," Pamela had said to Stephen. "It was common talk around the hotel."

"I can't believe it," Stephen said then. "Mildred isn't a fortune hunter."

Pamela shrugged. "Well, I happen to know that she called Harold up to take her out that afternoon you were supposed to go picnicking with her, and couldn't. By the way, you didn't make that sale, did you, Irresistible? I thought not. I sent the customer around myself, just so you couldn't get away. . . . ."

"You nervy little. . . . ."

"Don't bother. Harold already has used all the words in the dictionary on me. You'd have to coin a new one to be original. But you needn't kick; you learned something. No one stayed at home pining because you didn't show up. Harold stepped right in and subbed for you. And Harold has stepped right in a lot of times. Why he was taking Mildred up to Westchester the very night her mother broke her arm . . . ."

"Burned it."

"No matter. Harold was there. And, I don't suppose you would believe it if I told you all, but you can bet it was enough to convince dad that we had a dangerous woman around, so he got rid of her. It wouldn't be so bad if Harold was old enough to know what he's doing, and besides he's not exactly strong minded, which is no compliment to Miss Lawrence. She'd have looked better picking on a man."

And that was the criticism that Stephen couldn't overlook. Mildred wasn't in love with the boy. Somehow he was sure of that. He had no idea that she was in love with himself either, but, well, she hadn't been exactly ill pleased to see him, he remembered. If she were crazy about Harold she wouldn't have any time for a guy whose tailor might as well have left half the pockets off his suits for all the need he had for them. Stephen reasoned. No, it looked as if Mildred was trying to eat her cake and have it too. Stephen's sporting instinct couldn't assimilate that. But it was hard to understand.

He decided he'd better keep away and give Harold a chance in a clear field. Worse things could happen to a boy than being married for his dad's money, he reflected, thinking how charmingly Mildred had fitted into a home background.

The memory picture stirred up a sort of vague longing in him for something like that in his own future. Not an uptown flat, but a little early American cottage, say, with a real bay window, a dog that could be taught to jump through one of those half-and-half door when the upper part was open, a few yards of dirt to dig in and a bench where he could build cabinets and things.

Stephen brought himself up with a halt. "I'll be adding nursery next," he grinned, and turned his thoughts to the realities of life.

Foremost there was the matter of obtaining a loan staring him in the face, though he hated to look at it. The boys had been pretty decent about letting him have money, even those who had ragged him for stepping out of his class.

Stephen knew they referred to his going about with Pamela Judson. She was out of his class, but Stephen was not a victim of an inferiority complex.

So long as there were ladders to climb a fellow could get anywhere. He didn't intend to stay on the bottom rung. And when he reached the point where he could provide a comfortable home for a wife he would go after the girl he wanted, if there was one, whether she breathed the rarefied air at the top or was to be found struggling with the masses lower down.

In the meantime he found playing around with Pamela rather expensive. But he considered the money spent a good investment; through her he met a number of likely buyers for his car. And then, of course, it was pleasant. Pamela had a way. . . . well, he couldn't object when she chose to curl up against him and coax.

He wasn't altogether sure that she wouldn't turn out to be the girl he wanted to marry. For one thing he knew he was becoming jealous of Huck Connor. The persistency of that fellow in hanging around Pamela annoyed him. It annoyed Pamela, too, for now that Stephen was back in her fold she had no further use for Huck. She wasn't sure that Stephen had been even partially lured to return by fear of the competition Huck had offered. She rather believed it was entirely due to the thorough manner in which she had disillusioned him in regard to Mildred.

• • •

On that score Pamela felt she could congratulate herself, and forget Mildred. But Huck was a problem. Encouraged during Stephen's neglect of her, he now refused to be overlooked.

Pamela frowned into the mirror of the dressing-table before which she sat skillfully applying an eye-lash darkener to her pale lashes. Then she shrugged nonchalantly. "After tonight he'll surely fold up and fade away," she told herself, blinking her eyes for better inspection of her work.

Her assurance was based on a plan she had concocted for showing Huck once and for all how little he mattered to her.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

"On Trial," Warner Bros. latest all-talking Vitaphone special, is being hailed as the first murder trial melodrama to be presented as a talking picture. Though this fact is undoubtedly one of the reasons for the sensation it is creating in theatrical circles all over the country, there are several other factors of even greater importance.

The first of these is the exceptionally brilliant cast, headed by Pauline Frederick, Bert Lytell, Lois Wilson and Holmes Herbert, and including Jason Robards, Franklin Pangborn, Johnny Arthur, Richard Tucker, Edward Martindel, Fred Kelsey, Vondell Darr and Edmund Breese.

The second is that "On Trial" was adapted by the versatile Robert Lord. The third is the fact that it was directed by Archie L. Mayo, one of the pioneer directors of full-length all-talking productions.

"On Trial" injected a new and revolutionary idea into the theatre, the "flash-back," first influence of motion picture technique on the theatre. Because of this motion picture structure, it was ideally suited to Vitaphone, and the Vitaphone version makes possible qualities not attainable on the stage.

"On Trial" comes to the Delft today for a three day stay.

AT THE STRAND

"Sally's Shoulders," the attractive film presentation of the novel by Beatrice Burton, which had millions of readers when it was published recently as a newspaper serial, will be shown at the Strand today.

In the cast that gives excellent support to Lois Wilson are Huntley Gordon, George Hackathorne, Edythe Chapman and Lucille Williams.

HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Among the peasants of central Europe particularly, but also in many other places in the world, the superstition persists that the drinking of cow's milk fresh from the udder is not only extremely healthful but has the specific property of curing consumption.

The cow and the bull have been worshiped by primitive races for thousands of years. The symbol of Osiris, god of the Egyptians, was a bull and Isis was usually represented by the cow. In ancient Egyptian processions during the feast of Isis, the cow was followed by young girls consecrated to the service of heaven and carrying a basket of holy cakes, round with a hole in the center, to represent the function of motherhood. Among the Hindus the cow is still a sacred animal associated with the idea of rebirth.

Milk has always been considered a potent food and remedy. Indeed, it is today generally recognized that among foods, milk is perhaps the most complete food available.

In the middle ages consumption was considered to be due to witchcraft and was treated with butter made from the milk of cows fed in church yards.

Among British peasants today goat's milk is still considered to be of special virtue for tuberculosis and so strong is the empirical opinion, that it is alleged that children should be fed with goat's milk because the goat does not have tuberculosis as often as the cow.

The actual fact of the matter is, of course, that milk fresh from the cow or in any other way is not a cure for tuberculosis. It is a valuable food in tuberculosis, of course, or in any other disease.

Because the cow not infrequently has tuberculosis, uunpasteurized milk or milk from cows that have not been tested for tuberculosis is a menace and may actually spread the disease. The path of safety therefore lies in drinking only milk that has been certified or pasteurized. Under such circumstances, it may prevent tuberculosis by increasing weight, improving nutrition and building resistance against the disease.

OUR SCHOOL

My father has his office and
His business, and all that;
My mother keeps with busy hand
The house that we live at;
My brother has his work to do,
His shop and shining tool;
And we have something dandy, too—
We fellows have our school.

At nine o'clock the schoolbell rings.
It used to make me mad;
It's all the way you look at things
(I got that from my dad).
But now it's music to my ear.
That schoolbell, as a rule;
I'm rather glad, when morning's here
We fellows have our school.

My father has his friends to lunch,
My mother has her teas,
But, say, we have a better bunch
Than either one of these.
The boy who doesn't like to go
I think's an awful fool;
Big people have their clubs, I know—
We fellows have our school.

Why he was taking Mildred up to Westchester the very night her mother broke her arm . . . ."

"Burned it."

"No matter. Harold was there. And, I don't suppose you would believe it if I told you all, but you can bet it was enough to convince dad that we had a dangerous woman around, so he got rid of her. It wouldn't be so bad if Harold was old enough to know what he's doing, and besides he's not exactly strong minded, which is no compliment to Miss Lawrence. She'd have looked better picking on a man."

And that was the criticism that Stephen couldn't overlook. Mildred wasn't in love with the boy. Somehow he was sure of that. He had no idea that she was in love with himself either, but, well, she hadn't been exactly ill pleased to see him, he remembered. If she were crazy about Harold she wouldn't have any time for a guy whose tailor might as well have left half the pockets off his suits for all the need he had for them. Stephen reasoned. No, it looked as if Mildred was trying to eat her cake and have it too. Stephen's sporting instinct couldn't assimilate that. But it was hard to understand.

He decided he'd better keep away and give Harold a chance in a clear field. Worse things could happen to a boy than being married for his dad's money, he reflected, thinking how charmingly Mildred had fitted into a home background.

The memory picture stirred up a sort of vague longing in him for something like that in his own future. Not an uptown flat, but a little early American cottage, say, with a real bay window, a dog that could be taught to jump through one of those half-and-half door when the upper part was open, a few yards of dirt to dig in and a bench where he could build cabinets and things.

Stephen brought himself up with a halt. "I'll be adding nursery next," he grinned, and turned his thoughts to the realities of life.

Foremost there was the matter of obtaining a loan staring him in the face, though he hated to look at it. The boys had been pretty decent about letting him have money, even those who had ragged him for stepping out of his class.

Stephen knew they referred to his going about with Pamela Judson. She was out of his class, but Stephen was not a victim of an inferiority complex.

So long as there were ladders to climb a fellow could get anywhere. He didn't intend to stay on the bottom rung. And when he reached the point where he could provide a comfortable home for a wife he would go after the girl he wanted, if there was one, whether she breathed the rarefied air at the top or was to be found struggling with the masses lower down.

In the meantime he found playing around with Pamela rather expensive. But he considered the money spent a good investment; through her he met a number of likely buyers for his car. And then, of course, it was pleasant. Pamela had a way. . . . well, he couldn't object when she chose to curl up against him and coax.

He wasn't altogether sure that she wouldn't turn out to be the girl he wanted to marry. For one thing he knew he was becoming jealous of Huck Connor. The persistency of that fellow in hanging around Pamela annoyed him. It annoyed Pamela, too, for now that Stephen was back in her fold she had no further use for Huck. She wasn't sure that Stephen had been even partially lured to return by fear of the competition Huck had offered. She rather believed it was entirely due to the thorough manner in which she had disillusioned him in regard to Mildred.

* * *

On that score Pamela felt she could congratulate herself, and forget Mildred. But Huck was a problem. Encouraged during Stephen's neglect of her, he now refused to be overlooked.

Pamela frowned into the mirror of the dressing-table before which she sat skillfully applying an eye-lash darkener to her pale lashes. Then she shrugged nonchalantly. "After tonight he'll surely fold up and fade away," she told herself, blinking her eyes for better inspection of her work.

Her assurance was based on a plan she had concocted for showing Huck once and for all how little he mattered to her.

AMUSEMENTS

AT THE DELFT

"On Trial," Warner Bros. latest all-talking Vitaphone special, is being hailed as the first murder trial melodrama to be presented as a talking picture. Though this fact is undoubtedly one of the reasons for the sensation it is creating in theatrical circles all over the country, there are several other factors of even greater importance.

The first of these is the exceptionally brilliant cast, headed by Pauline Frederick, Bert Lytell, Lois Wilson and Holmes Herbert, and including Jason Robards, Franklin Pangborn, Johnny Arthur, Richard Tucker, Edward Martindel, Fred Kelsey, Vondell Darr and Edmund Breese.

The second is that "'On Trial" was adapted by the versatile Robert Lord. The third is the fact that it was directed by Archie L. Mayo, one of the pioneer directors of full-length all-talking productions.

"On Trial" injected a new and revolutionary idea into the theatre, the "flash-back," first influence of motion picture technique on the theatre. Because of this motion picture structure, it was ideally suited to Vitaphone, and the Vitaphone version makes possible qualities not attainable on the stage.

"On Trial" comes to the Delft today for a three day stay.

AT THE STRAND

"Sally's Shoulders," the attractive film presentation of the novel by Beatrice Burton, which had millions of readers when it was published recently as a newspaper serial, will be shown at the Strand today.

In the cast that gives excellent support to Lois Wilson are Huntley Gordon, George Hackathorne, Edythe Chapman and Lucille Williams.

HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

Among the peasants of central Europe particularly, but also in many other places in the world, the superstition persists that the drinking of cow's milk fresh from the udder is not only extremely healthful but has the specific property of curing consumption.

The cow and the bull have been worshiped by primitive races for thousands of years. The symbol of Osiris, god of the Egyptians, was a bull and Isis was usually represented by the cow. In ancient Egyptian processions during the feast of Isis, the cow was followed by young girls consecrated to the service of heaven and carrying a basket of holy cakes, round with a hole in the center, to represent the function of motherhood. Among the Hindus the cow is still a sacred animal associated with the idea of rebirth.

Milk has always been considered a potent food and remedy. Indeed, it is today generally recognized that among foods, milk is perhaps the most complete food available.

In the middle ages consumption was considered to be due to witchcraft and was treated with butter made from the milk of cows fed in church yards.

Among British peasants today goat's milk is still considered to be of special virtue for tuberculosis and so strong is the empirical opinion, that it is alleged that children should be fed with goat's milk because the goat does not have tuberculosis as often as the cow.

The actual fact of the matter is, of course, that milk fresh from the cow or in any other way is not a cure for tuberculosis. It is a valuable food in tuberculosis, of course, or in any other disease.

Because the cow not infrequently has tuberculosis, uunpasteurized milk or milk from cows that have not been tested for tuberculosis is a menace and may actually spread the disease. The path of safety therefore lies in drinking only milk that has been certified or pasteurized. Under such circumstances, it may prevent tuberculosis by increasing weight, improving nutrition and building resistance against the disease.

OUR SCHOOL

My father has his office and
His business, and all that;
My mother keeps with busy hand
The house that we live at;
My brother has his work to do,
His shop and shining tool;
And we have something dandy, too—
We fellows have our school.

At nine o'clock the schoolbell rings,
It used to make me mad;
It's all the way you look at things
(I got that from my dad),
But now it's music to my ear,
That schoolbell, as a rule;
I'm rather glad, when morning's here
We fellows have our school.

My father has his friends to lunch,
My mother has her teas,
But, say, we have a better bunch
Than either one of these.
The boy who doesn't like to go
I think's an awful fool:
Big people have their clubs, I know—
We fellows have our school.

LIMESTONE LOOP IS TRAVELOG FOR TODAY; RAILROAD ROUTES TAKE SHAPE NEAR HUNTS SPUR

In previous articles on developments in the Inland Lime and Stone Co., limestone district at the eastern edge of Schoolcraft county, the picture has been presented from the west. This time the start will be from the east, and the reader will be taken over the entire "limestone loop", leaving Manistique say, at 7:30 a. m., and landing first at Calspar.

The Calspar plant has been in operation from the quarrying end for the past twenty-five years, being originally discovered and opened up by the Grand Old Man of the lime industry, George Nicholson, Sr. The development was slow for a great many years but began to unfold six years ago when a modern lime plant was added to the then very busy quarrying operation. The lime plant consists of four seventy-foot vertical kilns and is almost an exact duplication of blast furnace, skips of stone regularly being taken to the top and charged through bells into the kilns. The plant operates almost as automatically as is possible. Every thirty minutes a huge air ram opens up the "shears" and approximately a ton of lime drops out. Two mammoth gas producers slowly revolve, reducing soft goal to gas which feeds 24 huge furnaces, located three on each side of each kiln. The stone is constantly working down and changing from stone into lime by throwing off 50 per cent of its weight in gas.

Power is generated right at the plant by two modern Deisel engines which supply electricity for the stone plant, and lime plant and hydrating plant. At the hydrate and pulverizing plant, crude limestone, within a few hours, comes out neatly packed in 50 pound paper bogs of hydrated lime for the chemical trade, said to be as pure as any offered on the American market.

The quarry proper makes one think of an iron mine, huge cranes picking up the stone and loading it into cars, and two locomotives constantly taking out the loads and serving the cranes.

Drive east, and after walking a mile, there is an area surprising in size. Thousands of acres of exposed limestone as far as the eye can reach make an impressive sight. This point of vision, commands a view of Pike Lake, and looking to the north and west towards Blaney reveals nothing but a waste of stone on which very little vegetation grows. "No Man's Land", it seems in desolation, but when one realizes that, after years of exhaustive study of the formation, it has been brought to life, and that underneath this exterior lies one of the purest beds of limestone on the American continent, one can see the why of all this activity to bring to the world's markets what at one time men considered worthless.

From this point, this typewriter tour goes south through Hunts Spur and follows the new railroad line due south through swamp and over hill.

Already Foley Brothers have a tremendous drag line excavator unloaded from two flat cars. Behind that, on the siding at Hunts Spur is a large steam shovel waiting to get into the Spur where the construction work has just started. The start has been made on fifty carloads of ballast to complete the railroad connection, then Foley Brothers start south in the building of the first five miles of railroad. This is to be completed by August 15th and running service is to be ready by August 1st. The connection will give a flow of the hundreds of carloads of material required for the completion of the dock and harbor.

Miles of strenuous walking, then the harbor site. Timbers are strewn about the beach in disorderly fashion, being pulled up on the beach, and made ready to work themselves into their dignified position and serve as part of the trestles projecting out into Lake Michigan. Assistant Superintendent Heitman and Engineer Cookson are working levels and transits, apparently shooting stars, but undoubtedly it means something, as there are a few stakes and flags here and there which will be the basing point from which the harbor will have to be developed.

From this point it is a mile to the Milakokia river, where a new bridge is completed, ready for automobiles and tractors to cross. Here are the beautifully arranged camps previously described. The camp is now connected to the outside world by telephone, and the railroad for a mile west has begun to take form.

At the Dolomite Quarry the first blasts have been let off for the scale pitt, and huge boulders of rock had been thrown in every direction. These are being worked out by hand until the shovel gets there. A battery of air compressors is at work, supplying air for the drills, and an endless line of holes are being sunk for the next blast which will open up the quarry proper. A clearing of many acres had been made, and in fact, the entire panorama has changed in a week.

An 80-ton steam shovel for excavating found a restful place in the swamp south of McDonald lake Friday and sunk partly out of sight. There was no getting around it, over it or under it, and it held up everything for a while.

Some desperate and daring drivers took an old road to McDonald lake and then by running in the water for three miles, finally struck the highway.

Another sturdy steel horse came to the rescue of this shovel and after 48 hours of continuous work, under the efficient direction of Supt. Colby, the shovel was lifted on its way to the harbor site.

Golf and Soft-ball Supplant Bowling

Bowling came to a close at the Brault alleys last week, and outdoor recreation is now coming into its own for Manistique folks.

Golf is drawing out an increasing number of fans as the fine weather continues, and the Indian Lake course is ready for play. Cups and flags were in use Sunday.

Diamond ball, a popular sport for city workers, is expected to get a start this week, and a meeting will probably be held at the firemen's hall Friday night to lay plans for the schedule.

OBSERVES 83RD BIRTHDAY

George Marks Sr., of Manistique celebrated his 83 birthday Sunday with a number of guests present. Out of town people at the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. Gossick and Mr. and Mrs. McMorris of Pontiac, who made the trip especially for the event. Others in attendance included: Mmes. Oliver, Marin and Stewart; Messrs. Oliver, Marin, Wm. Stewart, Roy Stewart, Leslie Marks and Clarence Marks.

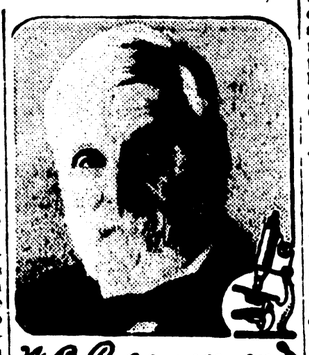
Prescription He Wrote in 1892 is the World's Most Popular Laxative

When Dr. Caldwell started to practice medicine, back in 1875, the needs for a laxative were not as great as they are today. People lived normal, quiet lives, ate plain, wholesome food, and got plenty of fresh air and sunshine. But even that early there were drastic physics and purges for the relief of constipation which Dr. Caldwell did not believe were good for human beings to put into their system. So he wrote a prescription for a laxative to be used by his patients.

The prescription for constipation that he used early in his practice, and which he put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid vegetable remedy, intended for women, children and elderly people, and they need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

Under successful management this prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that millions of bottles are used a year proves that it has won the confidence of people who needed it to get relief from headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.



W. B. Caldwell M.D. AT AGE 83

It is particularly pleasing to know that the most of it is bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for elderly people. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

NEW STUDENTS SIGNING UP AT MANISTIQUE HI

Saturday will be registration day for rural and non-resident students who plan to attend Manistique high school this fall. Principal R. H. Wilson will be in his office from 9 to 12 Saturday morning and from 1 to 5 Saturday afternoon to receive registrations and assist students in choosing their schedule of subjects.

There are several advantages in filing enrollments of new students at this time, and it is especially desirable to the prospective student, in that it gives more time for planning a satisfactory study program. Young people residing in the city have already been registered for the coming term.

"AUNT LUCIA" IS ELKS SHOW; DATE IS MAY 27-28TH

Making "whoopee" for the entertainment of Manistique folks, the local Elks lodge will present their big home talent attraction, "Aunt Lucia" at the Gero theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The snap and ginger of college days is depicted in song and action, and the result is a show that never lags, and lacks nothing in the way of laughs.

In addition to the play proper, there are three special groups which are added features of the play. There is the flapper chorous of 35 business men, the baby pageant of 150 Manistique youngsters, and the college glee club of some 30 local singers.

The production is under the direction of Miss Lucille Griswold of the Universal producing company.

Many Changes In New Lake Route

Filling in the new road to Indian Lake along the Indian river is making steady progress. The route has been widened out, and a number of courves straightened.

One of the major changes will be at the Indian river bridge, which will be moved back to the old channel west of the present crossing, and the direction of the road changed to conform to the new bridge. The bridge will be a steel span, piles for which have already been driven. The new route will run back of Arrowhead Inn to join the Hiawatha road.

MEETS WEDNESDAY

A regular meeting of the Presbyterian Woman's society will be held in the church Wednesday. Mrs. Harry Adams and Mrs. Robert Attwood will be the hostesses. Mrs. Fred Monroe will be in charge of the Missionary program.

NAHMA CHURCH TONIGHT

Services will be held tonight at the Nahma Community church. The sermon will be by the Rev. Dr. Dutton, district superintendent, and the Rev. C. S. Risley of Manistique will also be present. The services will start at 7:30 p. m. and the community is urged to be present.

HIVE TONIGHT

A regular meeting of the Hiawatha Hive is called for this Tuesday evening at eight o'clock at the Odd Fellows hall. A pot luck lunch will follow an important business meeting. All members are requested to attend.

THEATRES

AT THE RIALTO

Romance and good acting featured the presentation of "Jazz Mad," Universal picture starring Jean Hersholt, that opened before an enthusiastic audience at the Rialto theatre last night. Marion Nixon and George Lewis provided the romance and Hersholt the acting.

The picture can be ranked among the best that have shown here this year. It has everything to please an audience. Human interest abounds in the story of the old musician whose great symphony won't sell and who has to earn a living by playing in a comedy jazz band. Tearful scenes and mirthful ones occur in the right places. The resulting impression upon the audience was highly pleasing, and it went home calling "Jazz Mad" a fine production.

Auxiliary to Conductors Meets

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors will hold a regular meeting this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. L. Traver. A lunch will be served. All members are requested to be present.

SOO SHOPS GO ON FAST TIME

Change Effective Today After Head Office Approval; Vote in Favor

The Soo Line shops in Gladstone, both locomotives and car departments, will start operation today on the daylight saving time, it was announced Monday by Charles A. Bauers, master mechanic.

The decision to make the change, action on which was deferred awaiting approval of the main offices in Minneapolis, was made Monday, following a straw vote which showed the shopmen overwhelmingly in favor of the advanced time.

The vote tallied only seven negative ballots out of a total of 161 votes cast.

While Gladstone went on daylight time on May 12, the Soo line shops remained on standard time, officials here awaiting permission to make the change from Minneapolis.

The old time caused considerable inconvenience in many homes during the several days following, but the change effective today, following word of its approval and the vote in favor of it, is expected to eliminate these difficulties at once.

Stock Market Breaks Sharply as Bears Attack

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP) — The stock market leapt forward with the announcement of the decision in the St. Louis & O'Fallon case today, only to miss its footing in its haste and suffer the worst spill since late March. The rails surged up about 2 to more than 20 points, only to lose much of their gains in the late collapse, as a wide assortment of prominent industrials tumbled from 2 to 20 points.

The erratic conduct of the market reflected the state of nerves which has developed from the unstable condition of credit. Although call money officially was at 7 per cent all day, and available in the outside market at 6 for a time, time money still held at the highest rates in years, and the American acceptance council reported a drop in outstanding acceptances of $94,138,171 during April, the largest reduction since its records have been compiled, definitely indicating that the acceptance business is suffering from high rates.

Break in Last Hour

There was little to account for the market's abrupt break save that traders unloaded industrials to buy rails, and became frightened with the consequent drop in the industrials. The action of the market was particularly confusing as its violent gyrations all took place in the last hour. The O'Fallon decision, appearing on the news tickers at about 2 o'clock, was at once heralded as the greatest bull development of the year. The list generally had exhibited an easing tendency since the opening, but started upward along with the rails.

The industrials soon began to sag, however, and when it was disappointingly evident that no major bull movement was getting under way, the bear element apparently found the time opportune to launch a concerted drive.

In addition to the clean cut decision in the O'Fallon case, which, it is estimated in rail valuations of as much as $20,000,000,000, Wall Street was treated to a number of favorable news developments, including the resumption of dividends by Goodyear at the annual rate of $5, increasing the Kennecott annual dividend rate to $5 from $4, payment of an extra of 50 cents by Dupont and of $1 by R. H. Macy, and a two-for-one split up by Warner Brothers.

Rails Lose Gains

The day's turnover totaled but 3,811,750 shares, indicating that the market remained for the most part a professional affair. The Associated Press index of 50 industrials dropped 7 points, as compared to 6.6 on March 25, at the time of the severe call money crisis, and the index of 20 utilities dropped 5.3 points both today and on that date. The 20 rails, however, moved up 1.9 points today, in contrast to a drop of 2.2 on March 25.

Chesapeake and Ohio led the unturn in the rails with a jump of 22¼ points to 220, but it fell back to 208. Frisco mounted 14¼ points to 125, only to slip back to 115. New York Central sold up 12½ points, and dropped 10 points from the top.

The commodities were generally firmer. Wheat futures mounted 1 to 1¼ cents on a decrease in the visible supply, and corn turned upward on unfavorable weather. Cotton mounted 75 cents to $1 a bale on reports of rains and floods in the south, but lost its gain in profit taking.

Foreign exchanges were extremely dull because of the Whitsuntide Holiday abroad. Sterling cables held steadily at $4.85.

New York, May 20 (AP) — The bond market limped through another irregular session today, showing little inclination to step livelier even in the face of the relatively easy call money and the O'Fallon rate decision. The latter, however, came too late in the day to exercise an appreciable influence on the railroad issues, although some of the convertibles in this group responded to the news by advancing.

First and second grade rails were generally firm. The Atchison convertible 4½s appreciated more than a point and a half on buying that appeared after the O'Fallon decision had been announced, but the Missouri-Pacific 5½s responded by an advance of less than half a point on a good turnover.

Standard investment issues found little favor. Utilities and industrials of the better grade made fractional changes on light buying.

United States government bonds worked into lower ground throughout most of the group, with most attention centered on the Liberty Fourth 4¼s off a quarter of a point. Foreign obligations were traded in larger volume than recently, but final quotations varied slightly from Saturday's close. Flat 7s, ex-warrants, sold at a new low, while German Republic 7s equalled the year's minimum of 105.

Foreign sugars were in slight demand at generally lower prices.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, May 20—Helped by a higher decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total today than expected, the wheat market here showed a distinct upward trend. Additional strength to wheat values resulted from the fact that for the first time of late crop reports had a distinct unpromising havor. Disagreement of the house and senate at Washington regarding debenture legislation failed to put a stop to the upturn in prices.

Wheat closed firm, 1 1-8 at 1¼ to 1 5-8c net higher, corn ½ to 1 1-8c up, oats, 1-8 at ¼ to ½c advanced, and provisions varying from 2c decline to an equal gain.

Highest quotations of the day in the wheat market were current at the finish.

Pessimistic reports about continued deday to corn planting did much to hoist corn values. Corn visible supplies decreased 3,346,000 bushels, and now are 19,500,000 bushels compared with 28,000,000 bushels last year. Country offerings of corn were extremely scant and consumer demand good. Oats followed corn.

PHONE CO. WILL SPEND $94,000

To Place 68,000 Feet of Extra Cable in Escanaba District

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company will spend approximately $94,000 during the balance of this year in rearranging, rebuilding and extending telephone facilities in and about Escanaba, it is stated by local Manager O. Sundquist. A large crew of men have started work on placing poles along the new highway in the northwestern part of the city and through north Escanaba in order that the company might relocate its toll line and cables that now run along Stephenson Avenue. The present pole line on Stephenson Avenue will be entirely removed when this job is completed.

More than 68,000 feet of additional cable of various sizes will be placed on poles throughout the city. This includes a new and larger cable to Wells, replacing the present cable which has become inadequate to care for the present demand for service at Wells. Cable will also be extended to many parts of the city and wherever facilities are now needed or expected to be required for use within the next few years.

Manager Sundquist states that due, no doubt, to the general improved business conditions at Escanaba, his Company has experienced a considerable demand for higher classes of service. The company found it impossible to comply with many such requests due to the fact that facilities were completely used up but when the work now under way is completed, all such requests can be taken care of promptly.

There are certain parts of the city, especially in North Escanaba, where there have been no cables but the district was served by open wire construction and in many such places the open wire will be replaced by cable. Applying a more recent type of construction, nearly every pole will have a cable terminal which means that the only wire to be strung on the poles will be that used between the subscribers' premises and the terminal box where the telephone will then be connected directly to the cable at the pole which the subscriber is served. There will be over 300 such cable terminals placed in connection with this construction work.

The open wire now connecting telephones at Gross and Flat Rock will be replaced by cable as far as No. 1 Dam and in order to do this a large number of poles will have to be replaced by stronger poles to carry the weight of the new cable.

It is estimated that this work will be completed by January of next year and sufficient facilities will be provided to care for the telephone requirements of the people of Escanaba for from five to ten years depending upon the future demands for telephone service.

Red Cross Field Worker in City

During the day Mrs. Ballard also conferred with L. A. Erickson, president of the Delta county Red Cross, and others identified with the movement in this locality. More than 125 Red Cross field representatives have been sent to scenes of various disasters for active service, Mrs. Ballard said, and she was momentarily expecting to notified that she had been assigned to that branch of the work, temporarily.

Car Strikes Deer; Crashes Into Fence

Eustis, Mich., May 20 (Special) Alex Henderson of Eustis almost got his buck out of season. Alex was motoring home Friday evening and when he reached the Forty-seven Hill a large buck jumped in front of the car. The deer, evidently blinded by the lights, turned towards the car and Alex, not having time to stop his car, had a head-on collision with the deer. He lost control of the car and crashed into the fence. The front end of the machine was badly damaged but the driver escaped injuries.

The deer was dragged by the car for some distance and seemed dead, but when he heard voices of the people who had gathered, he arose and went away slowly. It was thought he fell down again, but when people went to investigate, he must have regained full consciousness, because he ran away.

Dempsey Denies Stories of Attempted Comeback

QUIT GAME FOR GOOD, HE SAYS

Although He Might Consider a Million Dollar Offer

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP) — Stretched out in a barber's chair while a razor fought with his blue-black beard and a manicurist clipped his nails, Jack Dempsey blew the lather from his lips today and declared without reservation that he is farther away than ever from another ring comeback.

As forcefully as a man could say it, the former heavyweight king declared that the retirement he announced after Gene Tunney whipped him for the second time in Chicago still stands—more so now than ever. The ring had lost its lure, fighting days are behind him, and a new career stretches ahead.

As the barber rubbed Jack's face with perfumed lotion, the big fellow winced. Working out in a gym here last week "to keep my clothes fitting," Dempsey damaged a vertebra in his neck. The neck is stiff and painful and he plans to have X-ray pictures taken of the injury.

Contradicts Normile

"What a silly sap I'd be to ever fight again," he said as the barber chided a "big strong fellow like you" for jumping when his neck was twisted. "I've got a million dollars and that's enough. If Gene Normile, my former manager, said in Reno that he had an agreement with me for another fight, he was all wrong. We are mixed up in a propositon together, but it doesn't involve boxing.

"Almost every day I receive offers of one kind or another to fight again. I answer them all the same way, thanking them for the offer, but saying that I have no plans for getting into the ring again.

"Of course, if someone came along with a bone fide offer for $1,000,000, I'd have to consider it seriously. If someone offered to make it worth my while for me to start training, and find out if I could get in shape again, I'd have to think that over, too.

Million Might Be Lure

"There have been no million dollar offers and I don't expect any. Even if one did come, I'm not so sure but that I wouldn't refuse it after all. I'm a promoter now and have a mass of theatrical offers. I'll never fight again."

Reports that Dempsey had decided to return to the ring have been piling up within the last few days. Shortly after visiting Dempsey here, Normile announced in Reno that the former champion would box again in Agua Caliente, Mexico, for a million dollar purse. Humbert J. Fugazy, Dempsey's partner in promotion, declared several days ago that Jack would battle the winner of the Paulino Uzcudun-Max Schmeling fight here this fall.

Clyde Van Dusen, chestnut gelding, with Jockey "Poney" McAtee up. The winner is from the stable of H. P. Gardner, Amsterdam, N. Y., and brought his owner $53,950.

"D" TRACK MEET HERE SATURDAY

Four Strong Teams Entered; Rock River and Rock Favorites

The Class D track and field meet which will be held at the Escanaba Athletic field this Saturday, May 25, has attracted four of the strongest teams in that division. They are the Menominee Agricultural school, Rapids River, Rock high school, and the Rock River high school of Eben Junction. The Rock River team took first place in the Class D meet at Houghton last Saturday and the Rock township team scored second, only a few points behind.

In Larson and Trombley, the Rock high school boasts two of the best tracksters in their division. Larson, a sprinter, captured both the century and furlong dashes at the Houghton meet last Saturday. Trombley scored first places in the discus and shot put.

Trophies donated by local business men will be awarded to the winners in track events, field events, and relay race. The meet is sponsored by the Rock high school in cooperation with the Escanaba high school.

The events and the order in which they will be run off at the meet follows:

FURTHER PLANS FOR CARNIVALS

Plans for the motorboat racing programs to be held at the series of water carnivals this summer under the auspices of the Green Bay Waters association, were discussed at a meeting held at Marinette Sunday. Ted Baldwin represented Escanaba at the meet.

It was decided to hold races for both family and speedster type of boats. Other attractions on the program will be canoe tilting, birling, aqua-planing, swimming and diving exhibitions.

Numbers were assigned to the boats representing the various cities so that the spectators will be enabled to identify the various crafts.

Oconto boats will bear numbers ranging from W-1 to 10; Ephriam and Sturgeon Bay, W-11 to 35; Green Bay, W-36 to 60; Marinette, W-61 to 70; Menominee, M-71 to 85, and Escanaba, M-86 to 99.

Another meeting of the motorboat racing committee will be held at Oconto on June 9.

Charles Kimball, president of the Kimball Marine company, Chicago, mid-west distributors of the famous Chris-craft speedboats, has promised that his company will send a fleet of high-powered motorboats to give exhibitions at each carnival this summer.

GRABNER HORSE BREAKS JINX

Chicago Is Victorious in Silver Farm Purse at Downs

By ORLO L. ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP)—Chicago, the 6-year-old son of Granite, may have been a candidate for hard luck turf honors but today he shook off the jinx as he carried the colors of F. M. Grabner to victory in the Silver Farm purse at Churchill Downs.

The aging son of Granite campaigned last season on the Illinois tracks, but he never was able to show the class that ranked him as a leading handicap horses two years ago. Invariably old Chicago was up there fighting the leaders but he never seemed to be quite good enough to win after leading the field home at Lincoln fields late in September.

This spring he was taken to Churchill Downs but the jinx still followed him. On his first time out last week he lost to Chip by a neck over a mile route on a fast track. But today was Chicago's day. He was pitted against four other thoroughbreds of near his age and he ran like a champion. With Jockey Cotiletti in the saddle the Granite gelding got away fast but was pulled back into third position at the far turn. After a breathing spell Chicago was shaken up and although raced wide on entering the stretch he grabbed the lead and won by a neck from Fairy Maiden, 6-year-old chestnut mare owned by Maher Flat Iron, leading at the half-mile posts tired badly but lasted to take third money, finishing six lengths behind the Maher entry.

Time 1.39 3-5

Chicago's time for the mile was 1:39 3-5 on a drying out track.

W. R. Coe, the western thoroughbred owner, added another victory to his long string at Belmont park as Aquaplane annexed the debut stakes. The race was for 3-year-olds, which never had started and was run over the seven-furlong route.

H. C. Rumage's 7-year-old Stampdale, making his fourth start at Aurora, was an easy victor in the feature event on the Illinois track. Away to a good start Stampdale went wide the early part of the running but finally came in and drew out to win by a length and a half. Orestes II was second and Thistle Star third. It was Stampdale's first win this spring and he went the six furlongs in 1:12, returning $4.88 for each $2 wagered in the mutuels.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Some great pitching today by William Watson Clark, Brooklyn left hander, turned back the Giants and gave the Robins a 6 to 1 victory in the first game of a three game series with their Manhattan rivals.

Clark retired the Giant batters in order through eight of the nine innings, faltering only in the fifth to the extent of two hits and a single run.

Carl Hubbell started for the Giants but lasted less than three innings. The Robins pounded his delivery for seven hits to gain a commanding lead of 5 to 0. Ralph Judd relieved him in the third and held Brooklyn to one run throughout the rest of the game.

The game was played in the fast time of one hour and 23 minutes.

Detroit Promoter Signs Joe Dundee For Title Battle

Baltimore, May 20 (AP)—Signing of a contract for Joe Dundee to defend his welterweight title in a 15 round bout in Detroit during the month of July was announced here today on behalf of Floyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit promoter who obtained the contract.

The promoter said he expected to get Jackie Fields, whom the national boxing association recognizes as welter champion for the match, but that if this should fail, Jimmy McLarnin would be secured.

It was reported that Dundee's manager, Max Waxman demurred at first because he had a contract for Dundee to fight either Fields or Al Mello at Boston, but that the Detroit contract was signed after Fitzsimmons had deposited $10,000 in a bank in Baltimore as an evidence of good faith.

MACKMEN BEAT RED SOX, 5 TO 1

Increase League Lead to 2 Games as Yankees Idle

Philadelphia, May 20 (AP)—The Athletics came back from a road tour today to run their winning streak to five successive games with a 5 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Their margin over the Yankees, who were idle today, was increased to two full games.

Eddie Rommel chalked up his fourth win of the season with no defeats to mar his record. He held the Red Sox to six hits, scattered through five inpings. Charlie Ruffing went the route for Boston although he was very wild, giving ten bases on balls and eight hits.

The Mackmen hammered out three hits for the same number of runs in the first inning to gain a lead that never was threatened. Ruffing gave three passes, walking one run across the plate in that inning while a Boston error let another across.

Before the game, President Ernest S. Barnard of the American Lague presented Mickey Cochran, Athletics' catcher, with a framed diploma for winning the most valuable player award of 1928.

American Tennis Stars Win in French Tourney

Paris May 20 (AP)—With only doubles on display for the early customers, the French hard courts tennis championships opened today with the triumphant appearance of favorites before a holiday crowd of 6,000, a third of them vacationists from England and tourists from America. The latter had the pleasure of seeing their old and new champions bowl over continental opponents under a beaming May-time sun.

Big Bill Tilden, staging another comeback, was his old time self again. Paired with Francis T. Hunter he quickly eliminated two Nordic blondes from Denmark, Rasmussen and Nielsen, by scores of 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

An hour later, bare-legged Helen Wills stepped upon the center court where 20 photographers heralded her appearance, then paired with Hunter to win in straight sets from the French pair, Mademoiselle Doris Metaxa and S. Glasser, 6-3, 6-3. Mlle. Metaxa is not yet 16 years old and though she has been in junior championships and has won them, this was her first appearance before so large a crowd. She was too stage-struck to be of much help to her partner.

Yank Combination Loses

The only Americans to lose were Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, a champion over two decades ago, and Miss Marjorie Morrill, of Boston, member of the most recent tennis generation, they were defeated by the young and nimbler combination of the Mademoiselles Amaury and Adamoff, 9-7, 6-3, but only after as keen a contest as the scores indicate.

The only French star scheduled for the center court on the opening day was Jean Borotra, one of the champion Davis cup musketeers, and he was of a mind to be temperamental. He wished to put off his appearance until tomorrow but the Gallic element among the spectators, determined to see what they had paid for, demanded his appearance and got it.

In the cool of the evening the announcer informed the galleries that Borotra and his partner Senora Lili D'Alvarez, would not play as scheduled today but would be on view tomorrow. The Anglo-Saxon portion of the crowd swallowed the sad news complacently but not so the French.

Borotra Brilliant

They began to howl and in a few minutes someone spotted Borotra sitting as big as you please up in the special players stands. Then the crowd began to whistle—which is just what happened back in 1789 before the French revolution burst into flames.

In seconds, it seemed, the bounding basque bounced out of his seat, hurried downstairs, slipped on his "ice cream" trousers, and raced onto the court.

Playing brilliantly, Borotra and Senorita D'Alvarez eliminated the Franco-Russian team of Madame Michel Bernard and M. Magaloff, 6-2, 6-2, and the customers were satisfied.

Haines Wins 14th Straight Victory; Cards Beat Reds

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 20 (AP)—Jess Haines, St. Louis pitcher, won his fourteenth straight National League victory today, defeating the Reds, 5 to 1. Haines finished the the 1928 season with nine consecutive wins and has chalked up five victories so far this season without a reverse. Swanson, Cincinnati rookie outfielder, stole another base and is leading the major leagues in that capacity with nine thefts. Four singles in the first inning which produced two runs, sewed up the game for the Cardinals.

Maintain Half-Game Lead in League; Bush Wins Fourth Straight

Chicago, May 20 (AP) — Guy Bush had all his stuff with him today and the Chicago Cubs trounced Pittsburgh, 6 to 1, to even up the series and maintain their half game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals.

It was Bush's fourth victory of the season. He has yet to lose a game. Bush allowed the Pirates only five hits today while the Cubs were collecting eight off Steve Swetonic, a rookie right hander. Wilson and Cuyler had two hits each.

DOCTOR HENRI BRODIER

LA PALINA is America's Largest Selling High Grade Cigar (OVER A MILLION A DAY). Its outstanding popularity is the best proof of its unusual quality.

"The intense manner of American living is responsible for the great amount of nervous disorders existing amongst men in the United States. Therefore, I would advise those who use tobacco to smoke cigars, since they have a tendency to quiet rather than irritate and excite the nerves. And the smoking of them rarely becomes a habit that requires constant indulgence for its satisfaction."

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP) — The stock market leapt forward with the announcement of the decision in the St. Louis & O'Fallon case today, only to miss its footing in its haste and suffer the worst spill since late March. The rails surged up about 2 to more than 20 points, only to lose much of their gains in the late collapse, as a wide assortment of prominent industrials tumbled from 2 to 20 points.

The erratic conduct of the market reflected the state of nerves which has developed from the unstable condition of credit. Although call money officially was at 7 per cent all day, and available in the outside market at 6 for a time, time money still held at the highest rates in years, and the American acceptance council reported a drop in outstanding acceptances of $94,138,171 during April, the largest reduction since its records have been compiled, definitely indicating that the acceptance business is suffering from high rates.

Break in Last Hour

There was little to account for the market's abrupt break save that traders unloaded industrials to buy rails, and became frightened with the consequent drop in the industrials. The action of the market was particularly confusing as its violent gyrations all took place in the last hour. The O'Fallon decision, appearing on the news tickers at about 2 o'clock, was at once heralded as the greatest bull development of the year. The list generally had exhibited an easing tendency since the opening, but started upward along with the rails.

The industrials soon began to sag, however, and when it was disappointingly evident that no major bull movement was getting under way, the bear element apparently found the time opportune to launch a concerted drive.

In addition to the clean cut decision in the O'Fallon case, which, it is estimated in rail valuations of as much as $20,000,000,000, Wall Street was treated to a number of favorable news developments, including the resumption of dividends by Goodyear at the annual rate of $5, increasing the Kennecott annual dividend rate to $5 from $4, payment of an extra of 50 cents by Dupont and of $1 by R. H. Macy, and a two-for-one split up by Warner Brothers.

Rails Lose Gains

The day's turnover totaled but 3,811,750 shares, indicating that the market remained for the most part a professional affair. The Associated Press index of 50 industrials dropped 7 points, as compared to 6.6 on March 25, at the time of the severe call money crisis, and the index of 20 utilities dropped 5.3 points both today and on that date. The 20 rails, however, moved up 1.9 points today, in contrast to a drop of 2.2 on March 25.

Chesapeake and Ohio led the upturn in the rails with a jump of 22¼ points to 220, but it fell back to 208. Frisco mounted 14¼ points to 125, only to slip back to 115. New York Central sold up 12½ points, and dropped 10 points from the top.

The commodities were generally firmer. Wheat futures mounted 1 to 1¼ cents on a decrease in the visible supply, and corn turned upward on unfavorable weather. Cotton mounted 75 cents to $1 a bale on reports of rains and floods in the south, but lost its gain in profit taking.

Foreign exchanges were extremely dull because of the Whitsuntide Holiday abroad. Sterling cables held steadily at $4.85.

New York, May 20 (AP) — The bond market limped through another irregular session today, showing little inclination to step livelier even in the face of the relatively easy call money and the O'Fallon rate decision. The latter, however, came too late in the day to exercise an appreciable influence on the railroad issues, although some of the convertibles in this group responded to the news by advancing.

First and second grade rails were generally firm. The Atchison convertible 4½s appreciated more than a point and a half on buying that appeared after the O'Fallon decision had been announced, but the Missouri-Pacific 5½s responded by an advance of less than half a point on a good turnover.

Standard investment issues found little favor. Utilities and industrials of the better grade made fractional changes on light buying.

United States government bonds worked into lower ground throughout most of the group, with most attention centered on the Liberty Fourth 4¼s off a quarter of a point. Foreign obligations were traded in larger volume than recently, but final quotations varied slightly from Saturday's close. Flat 7s, ex-warrants, sold at a new low, while German Republic 7s equalled the year's minimum of 105.

Foreign sugars were in slight demand at generally lower prices.

B. & P. W. CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Charter Is Received; Elect Delegate to National Convention

A most enthusiastic group of members attended the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club which was held at the Ludington hotel Monday evening. The applause which resounded in the banquet room was overwhelming when the president, Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, announced that the charter of the club had been received from the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and she proudly displayed the charter which will be hung in the hotel dining room in the near future.

A member of the Grand Rapids club of B. & P. W. was a guest of the club at last night's meeting. Mrs. Ballard, a Red Cross nurse, gave an interesting talk and congratulated the members on the large membership already registered for having been organized so short a time. Mrs. Ballard gave an outline of her work which consists of assisting quotas of work to various Red Cross units throughout Michigan, and stated that the Delta county unit had a quota of fifteen bags containing Christmas gifts to be made for soldiers and sailors in foreign lands. Mrs. Ballard gave a description of the articles needed and dates of shipment so that these articles may reach these men by Christmas. These articles are the only gifts which these men receive at that time. The club accepted the quota and will begin early in the fall to make the articles and prepare them for shipment. The work will be under the direction of the welfare committee of the local club.

Plan Blaney Trip.

A proposal was made to give two trees to the American Legion for the Memory Lane project.

Plans were completed for the trip to Blaney. Members of the club will leave this city Saturday afternoon, June 1, and spend the week-end at the famous summer resort. Reservations will be received for the trip until Thursday, May 23, and members who wish to go or those who have cars must notify the committee in charge, Miss Margaret Compher, Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore and Miss Alice Reau. The committee also has arranged the plans so that members may attend church at some nearby church, Sunday June 2.

The nomination committee, the Misses Leona Lloyd, Margaret Dwire and Adrienne Tousignant, had prepared a nomination slate and the officers who had been elected at the February meeting were unanimously elected to fill the offices until January, 1930. They are: president, Lillian Reynolds; vice president, Louise Primeau; recording secretary, Marie Peters; corresponding secretary, Alice Kvam; treasurer, Lillian Dupont; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Scott, who is an honorary member of the club.

Several new members joined the club last night, and a double quartet was organized. It is the plan of the entertainment committee to organize a club orchestra in the near future as there are a number of musicians in the organization.

Membership cards were distributed to the members, these having been received from the national president's office during the past two weeks.

Elect Convention Delegate.

An invitation was extended to the club to attend the national convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which will be held at Mackinac Island, July 8 to 13, inclusive. Mrs. Lillian Reynolds was elected delegate to the convention and plans were discussed so that as many members as could attend should accompany the president to the convention. The fact that the national convention is to be held in Michigan and so close to Escanaba, makes it possible for the new organization to send a few members to Mackinac Island.

The Misses Alice Reau and Margaret Compher played two piano duets, "Valse Venetienne" and "Civic Pride" which were greatly appreciated. A short song fest followed the meeting and plans were made for the quartet to meet Wednesday evening for rehearsal.

Complete plans for the Blaney trip will be announced later in the paper and members are urged to send their reservations early.

Mrs. Anna Pearce

WAS OFTEN TOO WEAK TO DO HER HOUSEWORK

Local Matron Had Been Badly Rundown for Eighteen Years When She Took Dreco and Got Relief.

"I'll have to thank Dreco for my wonderful new health," declared Mrs. Anna Pearce, 201 N. Eleventh St., this city.

"For the past eighteen years I have been badly rundown. My stomach gave me no end of trouble and I was a chronic sufferer from constipation. Sometimes I would ache all over and I grew so weak that housework was the severest kind of drudgery. Spots would dance before my eyes and I would feel faint and dizzy, and I lost so much sleep that I grew very nervous.

"A friend advised me to try Dreco so I started on the treatment about three weeks ago and it has surely made a big difference in my condition.

"I no longer suffer with indigestion, constipation, dizziness or any of the other complaints and I feel so much stronger that even the hardest household duties come easy to me. My eyes are brighter, my complexion is clearer, I eat more heartily and I can sleep soundly the whole night long."

For a deranged stomach, sluggish bowels, headaches, catarrh, dizziness or painful joints and muscles, there seems to be nothing better than this plant and herb compound Dreco. Nearly everyone who takes it praises it. That is the best thing that can be said about any medicine.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Fair Store and sold by druggists everywhere.

Dempsey Denies Stories of Attempted Comeback

QUIT GAME FOR GOOD, HE SAYS

Although He Might Consider a Million Dollar Offer

By EDWARD J. NEIL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP) — Stretched out in a barber's chair while a razor fought with his blue-black beard and a manicurist clipped his nails, Jack Dempsey blew the lather from his lips today and declared without reservation that he is farther away than ever from another ring comeback.

As forcefully as a man could say it, the former heavyweight king declared that the retirement he announced after Gene Tunney whipped him for the second time in Chicago still stands—more so now than ever. The ring had lost its lure, fighting days are behind him, and a new career stretches ahead.

As the barber rubbed Jack's face with perfumed lotion, the big fellow winced. Working out in a gym here last week "to keep my clothes fitting," Dempsey damaged a vertebra in his neck. The neck is stiff and painful and he plans to have X-ray pictures taken of the injury.

Contradicts Normile

"What a silly sap I'd be to ever fight again," he said as the barber chided a "big strong fellow like you" for jumping when his neck was twisted. "I've got a million dollars and that's enough. If Gene Normile, my former manager, said in Reno that he had an agreement with me for another fight, he was all wrong. We are mixed up in a propositiion together, but it doesn't involve boxing.

"Almost every day I receive offers of one kind or another to fight again. I answer them all the same way, thanking them for the offer, but saying that I have no plans for getting into the ring again.

"Of course, if someone came along with a bone fide offer for $1,000,000, I'd have to consider it seriously. If someone offered to make it worth my while for me to start training, and find out if I could get in shape again, I'd have to think that over, too.

Million Might Be Lure

"There have been no million dollar offers and I don't expect any. Even if one did come, I'm not so sure but that I wouldn't refuse it after all. I'm a promoter now and have a mass of theatrical offers. I'll never fight again."

Reports that Dempsey had decided to return to the ring have been piling up within the last few days. Shortly after visiting Dempsey here, Normile announced in Reno that the former champion would box again in Agua Caliente, Mexico, for a million dollar purse. Humbert J. Fugazy, Dempsey's partner in promotion, declared several days ago that Jack would battle the winner of the Paulino Uzcudun-Max Schmeling fight here this fall.

It was decided to hold races for both family and speedster type of boats. Other attractions on the program will be canoe tilting, birling, aqua-planing, swimming and diving exhibitions.

Detroit Promoter Signs Joe Dundee For Title Battle

Baltimore, May 20 (AP)—Signing of a contract for Joe Dundee to defend his welterweight title in a 15 round bout in Detroit during the month of July was announced here today on behalf of Floyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit promoter who obtained the contract.

The promoter said he expected to get Jackie Fields, whom the national boxing association recognizes as welter champion for the match, but that if this should fail, Jimmy McLarnin would be secured.

It was reported that Dundee's manager, Max Waxman demurred at first because he had a contract for Dundee to fight either Fields or Al Mollo at Boston, but that the Detroit contract was signed after Fitzsimmons had deposited $10,000 in a bank in Baltimore as an evidence of good faith.

GRABNER HORSE BREAKS JINX

Chicago Is Victorious in Silver Farm Purse at Downs

By ORLO L. ROBERTSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York, May 20 (AP)—Chicago, the 6-year-old son of Granite, may have been a candidate for hard luck turf honors but today he shook off the jinx as he carried the colors of F. M. Grabner to victory in the Silver Farm purse at Churchill Downs.

The aging son of Granite campaigned last season on the Illinois tracks, but he never was able to show the class that ranked him as a leading handicap horses two years ago. Invariably old Chicago was up there fighting the leaders but he never seemed to be quite good enough to win after leading the field home at Lincoln fields late in September.

This spring he was taken to Churchill Downs but the jinx still followed him. On his first time out last week he lost to Chip by a neck over a mile route on a fast track. But today was Chicago's day. He was pitted against four other thoroughbreds of near his age and he ran like a champion. With Jockey Cotiletti in the saddle the Granite gelding got away fast but was pulled back into third position at the far turn. After a breathing spell Chicago was shaken up and although raced wide on entering the stretch he grabbed the lead and won by a neck from Fairy Maiden, 6-year-old chestnut mare owned by Maher Flat Iron, leading at the half-mile posts tired badly but lasted to take third money, finishing six lengths behind the Maher entry.

Time 1.39 3-5

Chicago's time for the mile was 1:39 3-5 on a drying out track.

W. R. Coe, the western thoroughbred owner, added another victory to his long string at Belmont park as Aquaplane annexed the debut stakes. The race was for 3-year-olds, which never had started and was run over the seven-furlong route.

H. C. Rumage's 7-year-old Stampdale, making his fourth start at Aurora, was an easy victor in the feature event on the Illinois track. Away to a good start Stampdale went wide the early part of the running but finally came in and drew out to win by a length and a half. Orestes II was second and Thistle Star third. It was Stampdale's first win this spring and he went the six furlongs in 1:12, returning $4.88 for each $2 wagered in the mutuels.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 20 (AP)—Some great pitching today by William Watson Clark, Brooklyn left hander, turned back the Giants and gave the Robins a 6 to 1 victory in the first game of a three game series with their Manhattan rivals.

Clark retired the Giant batters in order through eight of the nine innings, faltering only in the fifth to the extent of two hits and a single run.

Carl Hubbell started for the Giants but lasted less than three innings. The Robins pounded his delivery for seven hits to gain a commanding lead of 5 to 0. Ralph Judd relieved him in the third and held Brooklyn to one run throughout the rest of the game.

The game was played in the fast time of one hour and 23 minutes.

MACKMEN BEAT RED SOX, 5 TO 1

Increase League Lead to 2 Games as Yankees Idle

Philadelphia, May 20 (AP)—The Athletics came back from a road tour today to run their winning streak to five successive games with a 5 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Their margin over the Yankees, who were idle today, was increased to two full games.

Eddie Rommel chalked up his fourth win of the season with no defeats to mar his record. He held the Red Sox to six hits, scattered through five innings. Charlie Ruffing went the route for Boston although he was very wild, giving ten bases on balls and eight hits.

The Mackmen hammered out three hits for the same number of runs in the first inning to gain a lead that never was threatened. Ruffing gave three passes, walking one run across the plate in that inning while a Boston error let another across.

Before the game, President Ernest S. Barnard of the American Lague presented Mickey Cochran, Athletics' catcher, with a framed diploma for winning the most valuable player award of 1928.

American Tennis Stars Win in French Tourney

Paris May 20 (AP)—With only doubles on display for the early customers, the French hard courts tennis championships opened today with the triumphant appearance of favorites before a holiday crowd of 6,000, a third of them vacationists from England and tourists from America. The latter had the pleasure of seeing their old and new champions bowl over continental opponents under a beaming May-time sun.

Big Bill Tilden, staging another comeback, was his old time self again. Paired with Francis T. Hunter he quickly eliminated two Nordic blondes from Denmark, Rasmussen and Nielsen, by scores of 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

An hour later, bare-legged Helen Wills stepped upon the center court where 20 photographers heralded her appearance, then paired with Hunter to win in straight sets from the French pair, Mademoiselle Doris Metaxa and S. Glasser, 6-3, 6-3. Mlle. Metaxa is not yet 16 years old and though she has been in junior championships and has won them, this was her first appearance before so large a crowd. She was too stage-struck to be of much help to her partner.

Yank Combination Loses

The only Americans to lose were Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, a champion over two decades ago, and Miss Marjorie Morrill, of Boston, member of the most recent tennis generation, they were defeated by the young and nimbler combination of the Mademoiselles Amaury and Adamoff, 9-7, 6-3, but only after as keen a contest as the scores indicate.

The only French star scheduled for the center court on the opening day was Jean Borotra, one of the champion Davis cup musketeers, and he was of a mind to be temperamental. He wished to put off his appearance until tomorrow but the Gallic element among the spectators, determined to see what they had paid for, demanded his appearance and got it.

In the cool of the evening the announcer informed the galleries that Borotra and his partner Senora Lili D'Alvarez, would not play as scheduled today but would be on view tomorrow. The Anglo-Saxon portion of the crowd swallowed the sad news complacently but not so the French.

Borotra Brilliant

They began to howl and in a few minutes someone spotted Borotra sitting as big as you please up in the special players stands. Then the crowd began to whistle—which is just what happened back in 1789 before the French revolution burst into flames.

In seconds, it seemed, the bounding basque bounced out of his seat, hurried downstairs, slipped on his "ice cream" trousers, and raced onto the court.

Playing brilliantly, Borotra and Senorita D'Alvarez eliminated the Franco-Russian team of Madame Michel Bernard and M. Magaloff, 6-2, 6-2, and the customers were satisfied.

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH, SMOKE CIGARS

SMOKE CIGARS IF YOU WISH TO ENJOY TOBACCO WITHOUT SHOCK TO NERVOUS SYSTEM—is advice of World-Renowned Surgeon
DOCTOR HENRI BRODIER
Chief of the Surgical Clinic of the Paris Faculty

"The intense manner of American living is responsible for the great amount of nervous disorders existing amongst men in the United States. Therefore, I would advise those who use tobacco to smoke cigars, since they have a tendency to quiet rather than irritate and excite the nerves. And the smoking of them rarely becomes a habit that requires constant indulgence for its satisfaction."

B. & P. W. CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Charter Is Received; Elect Delegate to National Convention

A most enthusiastic group of members attended the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club which was held at the Ludington hotel Monday evening. The applause which resounded in the banquet room was overwhelming when the president, Mrs. Lillian Reynolds, announced that the charter of the club had been received from the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and she proudly displayed the charter which will be hung in the hotel dining room in the near future.

A member of the Grand Rapids club of B. & P. W. was a guest of the club at last night's meeting. Mrs. Ballard, a Red Cross nurse, gave an interesting talk and congratulated the members on the large membership already registered for having been organized so short a time. Mrs. Ballard gave an outline of her work which consists of assisting quotas of work to various Red Cross units throughout Michigan, and stated that the Delta county unit had a quota of fifteen bags containing Christmas gifts to be made for soldiers and sailors in foreign lands. Mrs. Ballard gave a description of the articles needed and dates of shipment so that these articles may reach these men by Christmas. These articles are the only gifts which these men receive at that time. The club accepted the quota and will begin early in the fall to make the articles and prepare them for shipment. The work will be under the direction of the welfare committee of the local club.

Plan Blaney Trip.

A proposal was made to give two trees to the American Legion for the Memory Lane project.

Plans were completed for the trip to Blaney. Members of the club will leave this city Saturday afternoon, June 1, and spend the week-end at the famous summer resort. Reservations will be received for the trip until Thursday, May 23, and members who wish to go or those who have cars must notify the committee in charge, Miss Margaret Compher, Mrs. Elizabeth Gilmore and Miss Alice Reau. The committee also has arranged the plans so that members may attend church at some nearby church, Sunday June 2.

The nomination committee, the Misses Leona Lloyd, Margaret Dwire and Adrienne Tousignant, had prepared a nomination slate and the officers who had been elected at the February meeting were unanimously elected to fill the offices until January, 1930. They are: president, Lillian Reynolds; vice president, Louise Primeau; recording secretary, Marie Peters; corresponding secretary, Alice Kvam; treasurer, Lillian Dupont; chaplain, Mrs. Mary Scott, who is an honorary member of the club.

Several new members joined the club last night, and a double quartet was organized. It is the plan of the entertainment committee to organize a club orchestra in the near future as there are a number of musicians in the organization.

Membership cards were distributed to the members, these having been received from the national president's office during the past two weeks.

Elect Convention Delegate.

An invitation was extended to the club to attend the national convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which will be held at Mackinac Island, July 8 to 13, inclusive. Mrs. Lillian Reynolds was elected delegate to the convention and plans were discussed so that as many members as could attend should accompany the president to the convention. The fact that the national convention is to be held in Michigan and so close to Escanaba, makes it possible for the new organization to send a few members to Mackinac Island.

The Misses Alice Reau and Margaret Compher played two piano duets, "Valse Venetienne" and "Civic Pride" which were greatly appreciated. A short song fest followed the meeting and plans were made for the quartet to meet Wednesday evening for rehearsal.

Complete plans for the Blaney trip will be announced later in the paper and members are urged to send their reservations early.

SEARCH FOR CLEWS

Thomas C. Martinec (left), deputy state fire marshal, and Dr. H. L. Rockwood, head of the city of Cleveland's special commission appointed to probe the cause of the disastrous explosion at Crile Clinic, are shown here in the basement of the wrecked building, seeking clews that might explain the cause of the terrific explosion. Poisonous gases from the flames swept upward through the building and dealt sudden death to scores.

Rushton and State Representative Henry Rose, it was announced by Secretary H. P. Lindsay, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. It is assured that a capacity crowd will attend and early reservations are advised, Mr. Lindsay added.

Accomplishments of Senator Rushton and Representative Rose in the last session of the legislature will be reviewed by four speakers: W. H. Needham for the City of Escanaba; J. P. Cameron for the Delta County board; R. E. Cheney for the public schools; and G. N. Harder for the Upper Peninsula Development bureau.

George G. Geniesse will preside and George Harvey will be chairman of the hospitality committee.

Mrs. Anna Pearce

WAS OFTEN TOO WEAK TO DO HER HOUSEWORK

Local Matron Had Been Badly Rundown for Eighteen Years When She Took Dreco and Got Relief.

"I'll have to thank Dreco for my wonderful new health," declared Mrs. Anna Pearce, 201 N. Eleventh St., this city.

"For the past eighteen years I have been badly rundown. My stomach gave me no end of trouble and I was a chronic sufferer from constipation. Sometimes I would ache all over and I grew so weak that housework was the severest kind of drudgery. Spots would dance before my eyes and I would feel faint and dizzy, and I lost so much sleep that I grew very nervous.

"A friend advised me to try Dreco so I started on the treatment about three weeks ago and it has surely made a big difference in my condition.

"I no longer suffer with indigestion, constipation, dizziness or any of the other complaints and I feel so much stronger that even the hardest household duties come easy to me. My eyes are brighter, my complexion is clearer, I eat more heartily and I can sleep soundly the whole night long."

For a deranged stomach, sluggish bowels, headaches, catarrh, dizziness or painful joints and muscles, there seems to be nothing better than this plant and herb compound Dreco. Nearly everyone who takes it praises it. That is the best thing that can be said about any medicine.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Fair Store and sold by druggists everywhere.
